ASSAULT ON CRETE INTENSIFIED BY GERMAN SKY TROOPS

U. S. Calls on Vichy for Formal Declaration of Intentions

7,000 NAZI SOLDIERS ARE REPORTED TO BE ENGAGED IN ATTACK

Thousands of German aerial invaders swarmed down anew on the 160-mile-long Isle of Crete today and a London radio broadcast indicated that Nazi parachute and glider troops had gained at least a temporary foothold on part of the island.

The British acknowledged that the battle for the strategic Greek island, legendary birthplace of Zeus, is growing fiercer.

A new host of 3,000 German sky troops were reported to have descended on the island during the night after the entire first day's contingent of 1,500 was declared to have been captured or killed.

London dispatches said the Germans were still pouring in.

A British radio broadcast said, "one or two" German naval transports may also have gotten through, but the announcer asserted that "there is no lack of control of very large areas of the island, although parachute troops may be fighting in groups at various points."

The announcer said there was no reason to believe that large numbers of Germans were captured alive.

"The situation is well in hand," the British said tersely.

REPORT ON AIR INVASION MADE BY CHURCHILL

Prime Minister, in Statement to House of Commons, Warns Battle for Island Will Continue With "Increasing Severity"

Situation in Hand

By the Associated Press

London, May 21.—Prime Minister Churchill warned today that the battle of Crete would continue with "increasing severity" as reliable sources declared air-borne Nazi shock troops were still pouring into the island.

The latest total of the German invasion force made known in London—and unofficially—was 4,500 men.

The Germans were delivered by aerial transports and sailed in by glider and parachute, the prime minister informed Commons, bringing forward the running account he gave it with first news of the invasion yesterday.

He told of a second assault on Suda Bay which although available only to shallow draft vessels, is Crete's best anchorage.

Canea, the island capital to which King George II of Nazi-occupied Greece fled, was still being shelled.

Today's expected 80 degrees would be within two degrees of the all-time high temperature for this date. Brozman's forecast also calls for fair weather tonight and tomorrow with the low temperature tonight about 64.

National Newspaper Advertisement Campaign Launched Today Asserts That John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America Would Become "Dictator of Country" if New Wage Contract Is Accepted

Appeal to Citizens to Aid in the Fight

New York, May 21.—(P)—Direct negotiations between southern soft coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America (U. M. W.) broke off today amid an outburst of name-calling by both sides and the dispute over contract terms was left to the National Defense Mediation Board for attempted settlement.

Representatives of the operators and union were to meet with the board in Washington Friday.

Before the recess was jointly announced the southern operators asserted in a national newspaper advertisement campaign that U. M. W. President John L. Lewis would become "dictator of this country" if the bituminous industry accepted the union's new wage and working conditions contract.

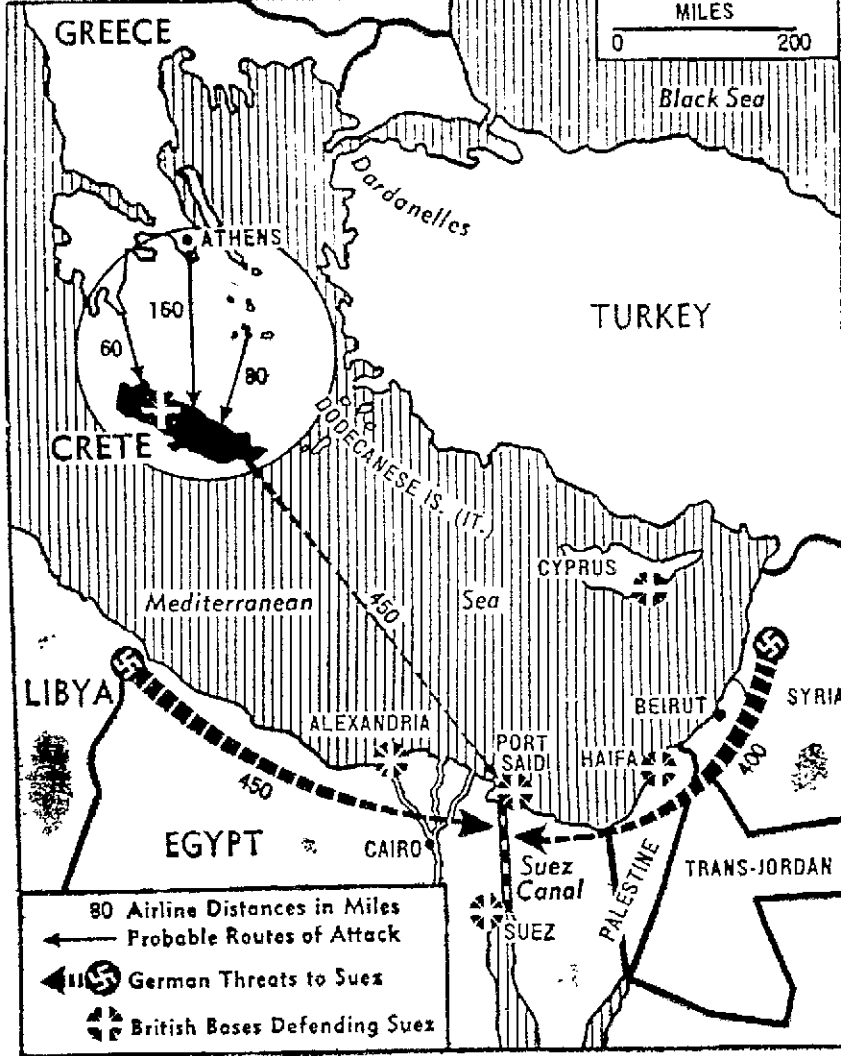

Lewis made no personal reply but his official spokesman, K. C. Kadamia said, "This advertising attempt of the feudal carpet-bagging coal operators who, pretending a southern gentleman's status, try to elicit public support under the guise of patriotism and public welfare x x x would rile the old devil himself in disgust."

The southern group, rejecting the contract formally approved yesterday by northern Appalachian operators, said the contract would make Lewis so powerful that he would control the country's entire soft coal production he would have a "death grip" upon every vital defense industry.

They appealed to citizens to carry their fight to congress, governor.

Diplomatic Call is Made On Pétain Government for Forthright Declaration of France's Future Status in "Collaborating" With Germany, it is Stated Authoritatively In Washington Official Circles Today

Mattinque Naval Exercises Watched

Washington, May 21.—(P)—The United States, it was learned authoritatively today, has made the equivalent of a diplomatic call on the Vichy government for a forthright declaration of France's future intentions in "collaborating" with Germany.

Vichy has been given to understand, it was said, that it cannot hope to restore Franco-American relations to harmony unless it is first prepared to supply full assurances in writing that France will hold rigidly to the terms of the June, 1940, armistice in all subsequent dealings with the Third Reich.

Secretary Hull's sternly-worded explanation of U. S. views to French Ambassador Henry-Haye contained the diplomatic cue informed sources said, that a formal note, putting France on record, was the only solution.

The uncertainty over French intentions meanwhile increased overnight with the news from Martinique that the French cruiser Emile Bertin and the aircraft carrier Bearn had been out to sea for what the commanding admiral called "routine exercises." The officer was quoted as saying that no real preparations for the ship's departure were being made.

As far as is known here, this was the first time the vessels have ventured out of port since they were berthed at the French colony in the Caribbean when France fell last year.

Informed sources were slow to accept the Martinique explanation that the purpose, in part, was to keep up the morale of the crews.

One theory advanced was that the "exercises" constituted a veiled warning to the United States that the warships were ready to resist any attempt to make the island a hemisphere protectorate, should the course of Franco-German "collaboration" so warrant.

Another conjecture was that the ships were making ready for a dash through the British blockade for some French base in Europe or North Africa. Such an attempt, it was said, would pose a difficult task.

CONGRESSIONAL CHANGES CAUSE HOUSE TANGLE

Democratic Re-Appportionment Measure is Launched With Prospect That it Would Meet a Deadlock With a Republican Senate Proposal

Row Over Procedure

Harrisburg, May 21.—(P)—A Democratic congressional re-apportionment bill started through the House today with a prospect that it would deadlock with a Republican Senate measure and eventually go into conference for a compromise.

The House put the bill on its calendar after a long and heated debate over parliamentary procedure that had a comic opera finish.

The House bill, backed by Rep. Leo A. Achteman, the Democratic floor leader, would reduce the state's representation in congress from 34 to 33 members by combining Montgomery and Bucks counties into one district and Berks and Lehigh counties into another. Lehigh and Bucks now compose one district and Berks and Montgomery county have one congressman each.

The House re-apportionment committee made those changes in the bill passed by the Republican-controlled Senate, which proposed to make the reduction by cutting one congressional district each from Philadelphia and Allegheny counties and splitting Luzerne county into two districts.

The House tangle over procedure revolved around the legality of committee action in the absence of Chairman Albert J. O'Connor (D-Cambria) who has backed another re-apportionment bill to cut one district from Philadelphia and revamp others in the state.

Republican leaders challenged.

Democratic Majority in the House Explains Action by Declaring Governor Has Underestimated Revenues in His $542,000,000 Budget

Harrisburg, May 21.—(P)—The House ways and means committee reduced the personal property tax by one mill today and estimated that this would lower the income to the state from this source by $8,900,000 in the next two years.

Rep. Leo A. Achteman, majority floor leader, said the remaining three mills on stocks, bonds and other tangible personal property would yield $20,700,000 to the commonwealth in the 1941-43 biennium. At the same time, the ways and means committee slashed the tax on bank shares by $750,000.

The action by the Democratic majority had been anticipated for weeks. Achteman declaring Governor James had underestimated tax revenues in his $542,000,000 budget by $28,000,000.

The House majority also gave the signal today for a quick cleanup of remaining legislative matters. The appropriations committee approved the final draft of the general appropriation bill. The ways and means committee acted to release the remaining tax bills.

ELDERED ROBBER IDENTIFIED BY FOUR WITNESSES

Pittsburgh, May 21.—(P)—A paroled convict was held for further hearing under $25,000 bond by a U. S. commissioner today on charges of participating in the holdup of the First National bank of Eldred, McKean county, last Wednesday.

A complaint sworn by a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation charged Edward J. Kern, 29, of Pittsburgh, and three other unnamed persons with holding up employees of the bank and fleeing with $5,311 in cash and approximately $2,000 in securities.

Kern and four others were also named on charges of conspiracy to rob the bank. The complaint charged that the men stole automobile license plates in Pittsburgh on May 7 and an automobile in Altoona two days later.

Kern was bound with handcuffs attached to a heavy leather belt around his waist when brought before the commissioner. He heard the charges without commenting.

J. E. Thornton, special agent in charge of the F. B. I. here, said Kern had in his possession more than $1,000 when he was arrested last night in a hideout in Pittsburgh's north side by Corporal J. L. Stuck of the state motor police and E. J. Rose, a special agent of the F. B. I.

Four witnesses of the daring, daylight robbery who were brought to Pittsburgh last night positively identified Kern as one of the robbers, Thornton said. They differed on the number of men who participated in the holdup which explains, Thornton said, for the discrepancy between the number named in the robbery charge and in the conspiracy charge.

RECESS PLANS HIT OBSTACLES

Washington, May 21.—(P)—Twin objections arose today against a summer recess for congress.

Anti-convoy senators said they would demand that their colleagues stay on the job to keep an eye on turbulent world affairs.

House tax experts declared months would be required to complete legislative action on the administration's $3,500,000,000 tax bill.

Senator Nye (R-ND), an outspoken opponent of intervention, said he would oppose any suggestion that congress quit for more than three days at a time for fear of developments which might bring this country nearer to war.

He said he and others hoped to obtain action later after President Roosevelt makes his views known—on a resolution by Senator Tobey (R-NH) to prohibit use of men of military age who are in deferred classification.

7,000 NAZI SOLDIERS ARE REPORTED TO BE ENGAGED IN ATTACK

Thousands of German aerial invaders swarmed down anew on the 160-mile-long Isle of Crete today and a London radio broadcast indicated that Nazi paratroopers and glider troops had gained at least a temporary foothold on part of the island.

The British acknowledged that the battle for the strategic Greek island, legendary birthplace of Zeus, is growing fiercer.

A new host of 3,000 German sky troops were reported to have descended on the island during the night after the entire first day's contingent of 1,500 was declared to have been captured or killed.

The announcer said there was no reason to believe that large numbers of Germans were captured alive.

"The situation is well in hand," the British said tersely.

Authoritative quarters in London said a full German parachute division of 7,000 men was involved in the two-day-old assault—including two infantry regiments, an artillery regiment armed with 75 millimeter guns, an anti-tank battalion with 37 MM. guns, a motorcycle reconnaissance group and other units.

Striking from Greek mainland bases, 75 to 100 miles away, Hitler's "Men from Mars" were said to be using a fleet of 250 huge Focke-Wulf air transports carrying 50 to 75 men each, and an undisclosed number of gliders.

So far, there were no reports that the Germans had landed airborne tanks on Crete—a feat first exploited by Soviet Russia in the Balkans.

Defending the island, the government seat of King George II and a British naval stronghold, were said to be two full Greek divisions and large numbers of British Imperial troops under orders to fight "to the death" with no thought of retirement.

British reports said the Nazi gliders were cut loose from towing planes at a great height, many miles away from their objectives, and coasted in among the Grecian Isle's olive groves and mountains without the tell-tale drone of motors.

Some troop-carrying planes were reported shot down.

In Berlin, authorized quarters angrily denied Prime Minister Winston Churchill's assertion that 1,500 Nazi "chutists" disguised in New Zealand battle-dress engaged in the initial assault.

The Germans said Churchill's remark was "infamous" and threatened that any brutal or illegal treatment of Nazi "chutists" would bring stern reprisals.

The London radio broadcast a warning that "whoever, in violation of international law, fights in an enemy uniform, must expect to be shot at once when taken prisoner."

A Berlin spokesman expressed satisfaction with the progress of the attack—possibly a rehearsal for Hitler's long-heralded attempt to invade England—and asserted that if King George II has not already fled Crete "you can be sure he's ready to jump."

Previously, the king was said to have rejected pleas by his ministers that he leave the siege-battered island.

The British reported that German naval units tried to land troops at the western end of the island and in the Candia region. It was not disclosed whether the attempts were successful.

German Military Authorities, However, Will Make Sure That American Ambulance Drivers Cannot Divulge Any Military Information

SINKING DESCRIBED

Washington, May 21.—(P)—The State Department was advised today that German naval authorities would permit American survivors from the sunken freighter Zamzam to leave France. The report came through Vichy, France from Henry S. Waterman, American consul at Bordeaux, before he left for St. Jean De Luz where the 138 Americans were taken by the Germans.

Berlin, May 21.—(P)—German military authorities will make sure that American ambulance drivers cannot divulge any military information to the United States or Britain, authorized sources declared today. This came in response to the question whether the Americans captured in the sinking of the Egyptian liner Zamzam would be released soon.

Speedy release of the 140 Americans taken off the Zamzam before she was sunk in the south Atlantic by a Nazi warship previously had been forecast by an authorized German spokesman.

This source said it was expected that the Americans—declared safe at the German-occupied French port of St. Jean De Luz—would be permitted to leave shortly for neutral countries.

Elaborating previous meager reports of the sinking, the German foreign office mouthpiece, Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz said the Zamzam was used for investigation on the high seas by a Nazi warship.

This investigation, the Germans declared, disclosed that the vessel was carrying large quantities of war material consigned to the "Free French" forces of General Charles De Gaulle, including a considerable quantity of munitions and a variety of machines, among them trucks and automobiles.

The Nazi warship, they said, therefore, acted in accordance with international law in sinking the Zamzam after removing her passengers and crew.

CIVIL DEFENSE MAY REGISTER 10,000,000 MEN

Washington, May 21.—(P)—A plan for the voluntary registration of the millions of men above the present military age was reported under consideration today as Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia came here to direct the vast new civilian defense program.

Counting in more than 2,000,000 World War veterans, authorities said there were approximately 10,000,000 men in the age group 36 through 45.

Furthermore, they pointed out, there were 27,000,000 women between ages of 21 and 46 from whom additional millions of volunteers could be drawn, if the registration were extended to cover them.

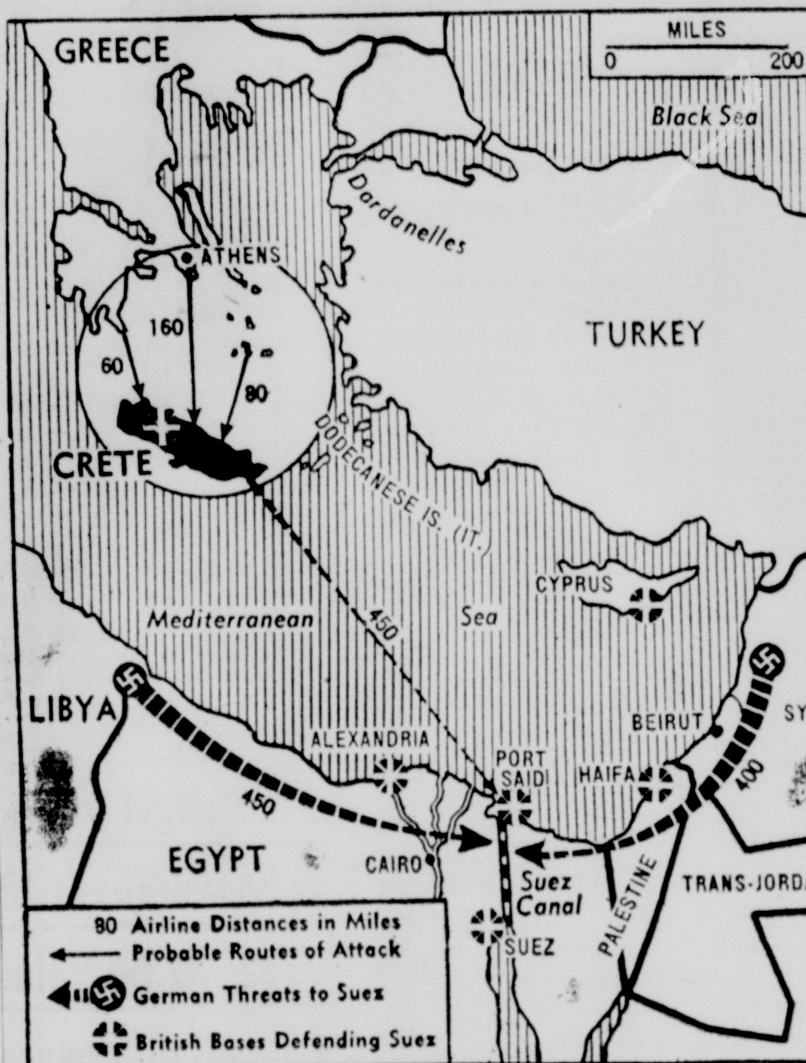

A final decision of adoption of the voluntary registration plan, it was said, will rest with LaGuardia to whom the president has delegated full authority for supervising the organization of civilian defenses.

Such defenses include home guards, already formed in some states, air-raid warning and air-raid defense services, and the numerous services connected with recreational and social projects for men in the army.

In announcing his selection of New York's mayor for the new post, Mr. Roosevelt indicated that Civil Defense Services might utilize men of military age who are in deferred classifications.

Of the 16,500,000 selective service registrants, about 6,000,000 have been classified to date and only 600,000 of these men will be in training by the end of June. Thus a reservoir of at least 5,000,000 would be available here, and the number would be more than doubled when the remaining 10,000,000 registrants are classified.

Some weeks ago a London newspaper employed a film actor to stroll through the streets of London garbed as a German army officer—just to see if anybody would notice.

He strolled for hours, even looked in at busy Scotland Yard and peered through the gates of Buckingham Palace.

Nobody so much as gawped at him, dirty look.

Easy Matter for Disguised Enemies to Walk Streets of London Neutral Observer Says

BY EDDY GILMORE
London, May 21.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill's charge that German soldiers disguised in New Zealand uniforms participated in the air-borne invasion of Crete inspired a high-ranking neutral here to pose this question today:

What would happen in Britain if invasion were only a problem of uniform?

Always ceremonially pictorial in the matter of dress, British thoroughfares nowadays resemble a convention of circus trainers lost in the midst of a fancy dress ball. Walk down a London street and you will see what he means.

The street-cleaners of Westminster wear hats turned up on the side like Australians. Telegraph messenger boys look like juvenile gendarmes of pre-armistice France. Bank messengers wear outfits resembling the costume of old-time minstrel men.

Brief Associated Press News Dispatches

Blackbird, Del., May 21.—(P)—A shotgun blast fired accidentally by one of her seven children killed 35-year-old Mrs. John Bodine last night as she cradled a young son in her arms, State Trooper Thomas Lamb reported.

Philadelphia, May 21.—(P)—Leon L. Rains was sworn in today as chairman of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission by Judge Harry S. McDevitt, who will administer the oath tonight to the other two members reappointed by Governor Arthur L. James.

London, May 21.—(P)—Flight Lieutenant L. P. Rowley, RAF pilot who flew British officials to Munich in the 1938 crisis, was listed today as presumed to have been killed in action.

London, May 21.—(P)—Bad weather continued to enforce a lull in the air war during the night.

Istanbul, Turkey, May 20.—(Delayed)—(P)—Passenger train service between Turkey and Syria was reported today to have been discontinued. It was not disclosed whether freight traffic had ceased. Turkey's isolation made her food supply problems more urgent.

Jerusalem, May 20.—(Delayed)—(P)—More German planes were reported to have arrived at the Syrian airports of Damascus and Palmyra yesterday and today and British and "Free French" planes again attacked both fields, starting large fires.

Berlin, May 21.—(P)—A British naval unit west of Crete was attacked this morning by German warplanes and a "direct hit" with the heaviest caliber bomb was scored on a cruiser, DNE, official German news agency, reported tonight.

LOCOMOTIVE IS BLAMED FOR 41 FIRES IN WOODS

The fact that there is still great danger of fires in the woods in this section was demonstrated yesterday when 41 fires were started along the right-of-way of the Pennsylvania Railroad between Hemplock and Oil City. It was reported today by William Smith, district forester for the state department of forests and waters.

Mr. Smith stated that all of the fires were started by one freight train and that investigation is under way by P. R. R. and forestry officials.

The total acreage covered by the fires has not been determined, the forester said. Three or four of the blazes covered 25 to 30 acres each. The others ranged from one acre up, he stated.

Mr. Smith said the woods are still in a very dry condition and that he would appreciate the cooperation of the people in refraining from burning debris and other materials while the danger of fires exists.

Director Harry A. Summers makes announcement today of the complete program for the spring concert to be given at eight o'clock Thursday evening in the high school auditorium by students of the instrumental music department of the borough schools.

More than 200 pupils will participate in this presentation of the work of the Beginners' Band, Second Band and Dragon Band, the Beatty and High School Orchestras and the High School String Ensemble.

A small admittance is being charged to defray expenses and tickets are available from any of the students.

The detailed program will be as follows:

Hunter was driving south on Onondaga and Brownell was approaching from the west on Biddle. Extent of damage was estimated at about $75, both machines involved.

PRICE OF CRUDE IS ADVANCED 15 CENTS IN AREA

Effective this morning, the price of all grades of Pennsylvania crude was advanced 15 cents a barrel. The advance, first announced by the Joseph Seep Purchasing Agency of the South Penn Oil Company, was followed by all major purchasers of crude.

The advance is the third this year and lifts the price 40 cents a barrel from that at the opening of the year. It was advanced 15 cents on January 27 and 10 cents on April 23.

The advance, the second in less than a month, comes just a year from the first downward movement in prices in 1940, when a 25-cent reduction cut the price from the peak of $2.75 to $2.50. The price continued to drop until it reached $1.85 on August 28. The upward trend started November 12 with a rise to $2.00.

The rise can be laid to continuance of refinery demand over production, continued decline in stocks and improvement in the demand for refined products with prices moving upward.

According to latest figures, the average wages of factory workers in automobile, body and parts plants have advanced to approximately $38.13, weekly.

CHURCH SCHOOL LEADERS MEET HERE TOMORROW

Clarence O. Swanson, vice president of the Warren County Council of Christian Education for the Warren district, has called a meeting on Thursday of all representatives of church schools in the district. The meeting will take place at the Y. W. C. A., and it is expected that the district organization will be completed.

The first district organization meeting under the plan adopted recently by church school leaders with the sponsorship and approval of the Warren County Ministerial Association, took place at Sugar Grove.

At the call of Mrs. Roy Briggs, of Sugar Grove, vice president of the council, representatives from that district met in the Methodist church and adopted the plan. Officers for the district unit will be named at the next meeting, it is stated.

Ralph E. Sires, of Warren, as council president, outlined possibilities and functions of the new plan and Mrs. Briggs spoke briefly. Mrs. Hazel Thompson Hendershot, who represented Mrs. Briggs at the recent state youth council at Lewisburg, gave an inspiring talk. Mr. Hendershot, president of the Venango County Youth Council, outlined that group's functions and extended an invitation to Warren county leaders to attend the Venango county convention in Franklin in early June. The Hendershots, whose marriage took place while they were attending the state meeting, received the best wishes of local friends.

SPECIAL EVENTS BEING PLANNED BY LOCAL ELKS

At the regular meeting of Warren Lodge, No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, held last evening in the lodge home, Hickory street, announcement was made that plans are going forward for two outstanding events being sponsored by the lodge in the near future.

The first of these events is the observance of New Citizens' Day and Americanism Day, to be held next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at the Court House here, when all those in Warren county who have become citizens of the United States during the past year will be honored.

Present plans for this event call for the new citizens to meet at the high school at 3:45 o'clock and march to the Court House, where a program of music and patriotic addresses will be enjoyed. Following the program, the new citizens will be guests at the Elks Club for a buffet lunch.

The second event being planned by the Elks is the observance of Flag Day. This year's program will be held on Friday evening, June 13, one day in advance of the official observance of the day. The speaker at this year's exercises will be James I. Isherwood, past state commander of the American Legion.

In connection with the Flag Day program, a parade is being planned and assurance already has been given that the V. F. W. Band, the Warren High School Dragon Band and the American Legion Drum Corps will participate.

Further plans for the program will be announced later.

Lunch was served by the house committee following last night's meeting.

Approximately 31,800,000 motor vehicles traveled over United States highways last year, an increase of 34 per cent over the number of vehicles in operation in 1939.

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The national park people have taken a look at the barometer and are preparing for the biggest tourist travel ever known in the parks.

The barometer is the Lincoln Memorial here in Washington, for it records pretty closely the trend of travel all over the country. The way the turnstile clicked there in April indicates that America is on the go as never before. In that one month, more than 360,000 persons visited the memorial, climbed the broad steps where Marion Anderson sang her now historic concert and gazed up at the towering statue of Lincoln.

That is 80,000 more persons than ever visited the memorial in any one month and almost a fourth as many as visited it during the record year of 1940.

Unless the pattern falls apart, that means that the almost 17,000,000 persons who visited the national parks and monuments in the country last year will be far outstripped by the vacation hordes that pour into them this year.

*****

Five Get Almost Half

SECRETARY of Interior Ickes already has warned his park staff in the field and they are making ready now for the banner season. Last year the first five parks in numbers of visitors were Shenandoah in Virginia; the Great Smoky Mountains, which stretch from North Carolina into Tennessee; Rocky Mountain in Colorado; Yosemite in California; and Yellowstone in Wyoming. These five alone accounted for almost half the 7,370,000 persons who visited the 26 national parks.

The reason, of course, is their accessibility. Shenandoah, on scenic Skyline Drive, is almost in the heart of the north-south travel along the eastern seaboard; and just 500 miles southwest at the other end of the Blue Ridge parkway are the Great Smokies. Probably the least accessible is Mount McKinley, but even the park there, tucked away in the heart of Alaska, drew over 1,200 summer wanderers.

A newcomer in the park lists and one for which park officials here have high hopes is Isle Royale, 200 square miles of richly forested island in northern Lake Superior. Another island is Acadia off the coast of Maine. Close to 400,000 persons visited it last year. A third island tourist attraction is Hawaii, which attracted 300,000 last year.

*****

Many Monuments

THERE are very few states that don't have either parks or national monuments. There is hardly anything that the vacationist could demand that these government owned and supervised spots don't offer.

There is the fishing in Olympic (Washington), Crater Lake (Oregon); Lassen (California); and others. There are the six-day hikes and pack trips from Yosemite into the high Sierras. There is mountain climbing in Mount Rainier National Park and in Glacier in northern Montana. There is the breath-taking scenery of Zion and Bryce Canyons in Utah and of the Grand Canyon in Arizona. There is the historical interest in the cliff dwellings in Mesa Verde in Colorado. There is the chilling thrill of the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico. 750 feet in a twinkling and where, if you arrive at the right time of year, you can watch the countless bats fly out for their nightly foraging.

Even if it's heat you want, the park service can supply it in Death Valley in California.

NAVY HAS NEED FOR 35,000 MEN BY JUNE 30TH

Lieutenant Commander Eugene C. Burchett, officer in charge of the Navy recruiting headquarters in the post office building, Buffalo, today announced receipt of the following dispatch from the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.:

"Acting Secretary of the Navy Ralph Bard has announced that men enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active duty during the period of the emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the number of years remaining in their enlistments. Enlistments in the Naval Reserve are for a period of four years if over 18 years of age. If the applicant is between 17 and 18 years of age, the enlistment is for the period of minority. The Navy has urgent need for approximately 35,000 additional men by June 30."

The Buffalo Navy office has been requested to bring the above notice to the attention of every activity within its command and instruct each to assist recruiting with all means available and to encourage any civilian who may be considering joining a military service shortly to apply at the Buffalo Navy recruiting station 515 Post Office building with a view to joining the regular Navy or Naval Reserve.

The local Navy office is authorized to commence recruiting in all classes of the Naval Reserve excepting Class O-2.

Men may enlist between the ages of 17 and 30 with no previous naval service in Class V-6 in the rating for which they may be found qualified. Men enlisted in this class as rated men shall be ordered to active duty for first assignment to that station, except recruiting stations which is instrumental in securing the candidates enlistment.

Mrs. Fred Leel is much better. Roy Hall is able to be about, but is still in poor health.

Will Pierce is much better than he was during the bad weather.

Miss Grace Pierce still gets around remarkably well for a woman of her age and one who has done so much work as teacher and home keeper. As a generous good friend and neighbor, she is deserving of much praise.

Newton school closed last week on Tuesday with a picnic dinner, which pupils and parents, as well as many others, enjoyed. Mrs. Martin Covell has been the teacher. Starr school closed on Thursday of last week. Pupils, parents and many others enjoyed a picnic dinner. Mrs. Berdena Lay, who has been the teacher for three years, and closed another successful term. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. at Starr each Sunday.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT ISSUE SETTLED

That most important issue which has "divided" the states for the past two years has finally been settled, and beginning in 1942 the country will go back to a nationwide observance of Thanksgiving on the last Thursday of November.

For the last two years the date of Thanksgiving has been advanced by presidential proclamation a week ahead of the traditional last Thursday in November.
Numerous states, including Pennsylvania, adhered to the last Thursday holiday.

Mr. Roosevelt announced the decision to go back to the old date in Washington yesterday, and it is not surprising to learn that he joined with members of his press conference in a chuckle.

Originally, he said, a majority of retailers had thought sales would increase if Christmas and Thanksgiving were not so close together. So, as an experiment, the president said the date was moved up and the experiment, he is now willing to admit, did not work.

Now a majority of retail stores report, the president says, that the change in dates made little difference in sales. Mayors over the country were about evenly divided on the question of whether there had been any difference in business.

The net result, Mr. Roosevelt declares, was that it appeared that there was little change in the volume of sales.

It is too late this year to go back to the last Thursday in November the chief executive explains, because of commitments made to retailers and calendar makers.

TOURIST SEASON ARRIVES

The State Commerce Department has stepped up its campaign to attract tourists to Pennsylvania by using state police "greeters" and Secretary Mark S. James estimates out-of-state sight-seers will spend $400,000-000 in the commonwealth this year.

Although tourist advertising has been held up pending approval of the department's budget, James says plans are nearly completed for state police to greet travelers at the state boundaries and hand out literature on Pennsylvania attractions. By June first the department expects to have police at fifteen points of entry in the state, he says. We hope that one of these will be the New York state line between Warren and Jamestown. Last year state police were posted at eleven places and handed out 394,688 maps and folders. They remain on duty from early June until the end of September.

More than $370,000,000 was spent last year by tourists, James estimates, an increase of $50,000,000 over 1938, and $38,000,000 over 1939.

With such a program worked out by the Department of Commerce, Warren and every community in the state should make an extra effort to assure tourists a hospitable welcome when they drive through during the next three months.

Music lovers are looking forward to an evening of genuine enjoyment when the instrumental music department of the Warren borough schools will be heard in an annual concert Thursday night. Numbering 210 students from five different organizations, including those in the beginners' classes to the high school orchestra, the program should be varied and very interesting.

That music which attracted the attention of pedestrians and strollers in the vicinity of Hickory street and Pennsylvania avenue last evening was no doubt the "kitchen" band of the V. F. W. Auxiliary practicing up for another busy season.

Many citizens are of the opinion that during the summer months all traffic lights in the borough should be kept on until the early morning hours. Some motorists are inclined to become quite reckless in the late evening with no red lights to curb them!

Encourage the wife to attend the Times-Mirror Cooking School. She may come home with a nice present in addition to some excellent suggestions on new ways to prepare foods.

The honeysuckle is in full bloom and it was never more beautiful and fragrant than this spring.

NEW YORK—West siders looked out of their windows the other morning and discovered that four tramp steamers had come in during the night and were lying just off the foot of West 48th street in the Hudson. Where they had come from no one knew.
What they were doing and where they were going only God and the government at Washington could say.

But there they were, and I treated myself to a good look at them, because, in a way, such tramps, lowly bearers of the world's commerce, are the most important ships afloat today.
They are the ships that are bearing the real brunt of the war.
They compose the life-line in the Battle of the Atlantic. They have a message to deliver to Garcia, like Rowan, and when they don't get through, well, it's just too bad.

THESE ships weren't very large, maybe 6,000 tons. Their hulls were black. Their decks had been swept by winter rains and bleached by tropic suns. If you stuck your nose in their hulls you could smell coffee from Rio, and guano fertilizer from Chile, and maybe coal from Cardiff or cloves from the East Indies. They knew Tunis and the Azores and West Africa. They knew Amoy and Pireaus and Seattle. Tramps get around. They know what it is all about.

When I first saw them at a distance I thought, "Those ships need paint." But that was a delusion. They had plenty of paint.
They were only made to look that way. A ship that is dull and drab and dirty is hard to pick up, especially on a dark day on the ocean, and that is good. The harder a ship is to see the longer it lives, the better chance it has.

It may be that, as a phase of shipping, as a way of sea life, the old fictional idea of the tramp steamer is on the way out. William McFee thinks it is. He thinks the tramp, like the clipper ships of other days, is surely destined to go and in its place he visions a swifter, cleaner type of ship, with hulls maybe of stainless steel, and increased speeds of 16 and 18 knots an hour. Most tramps today average only eight or ten knots an hour.

SINCE McFee makes this statement one must place credence in it; no man living is better qualified to prophesy the ways of shipping and of sea life than ships and his loved them and lived aboard them and written about them. His "Watch Below" is a sort of personal biography of the tramp steamer, its history during the last several decades, its purpose and its function. He says the tramp must go and he ought to know.

But standing on the dock at West 48th street that day seemed far away. They seemed incongruous, those four dirty tramps, tethered so close to the great Normandie, which is looking a little rusty and weather-beaten herself these days. They seemed like drab relations who had chosen an opportune moment to sneak in and sup at the rich uncle's table. But no one resents them. Each day, as for so many others of their kind, could very well be their last.

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1921

Material for the rest temple purchased from money remaining in the mess fund of Company 1 when the members returned from the World War, is on the ground at the approach of the old suspension bridge, and construction will be started soon.

The county commissioners received this morning 100 markers, which will be used to mark the graves of World War veterans.
Markers will be placed on the graves of all veterans in the county between now and Memorial Day.

A committee of the American Legion men are perfecting plans for a dancing party to be given on June 2 at the Outing Club. The Joseph C. Smith orchestra of New York, under contract with the Victor Company, has been secured.

There were several wagons on the Hickory street curb market this morning that were liberally patronized by early morning shoppers.

Carl Russo will have his red, white and blue ice cream wagon on the streets Sunday.

Mrs. Nellie Horton Schwing journeyed to Buffalo this morning via

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Knapp have returned from a sojourn from Battle Creek, Mich.

In 1931

Fifteen members and one guest were present yesterday at the weekly meeting of the Zonta Club.
W. E. Lutz, councilman, presented to the members the plans and specifications for a proposed wading pool at Beatty Field. The wading pool evolved from the swimming pool plan which the club had first in mind.

Warren citizens and the Warren
Kiwanis Club will be host to tomor-

STORIES IN STAMPS

Modern Blitzkrieg Makes Oil War's Richest Prize

TODAY'S wars are fought and won with oil. If Hitler runs out of oil, his war machine will stop. Keeping him from getting more oil is Britain's problem, together with maintaining the empire's supply.

Russia's stamp above, honoring the oil industry, is particularly significant. Russia's great oil reserves are concentrated in the Ukraine, bordering on Nazi-dominated Rumania.

Germany has developed substitutes, from coal, lignite, oil shale. Australia taps shale fields in New South Wales for gasoline.
Fuel alcohol, from agricultural products, helps ease the demand.
All gasoline supplies in Europe are strictly rationed.

United States has the most abundant supply of oil, supplies three-fifths of the world's total.
In emergency, U. S. could export enough oil to meet all petroleum demands of any belligerent.

First use of oil in war is recorded in ancient Greece, where the Greeks dumped oil on water, set fire to it and destroyed a Scythian fleet.

Although existence of oil in subterranean deposits was known for centuries, it was not until 1859 that the first producing oil well was drilled at Titusville, Pa.

The city of Quebec derived its name from the Algonquin word,
"Kebec," which means "narrowing of the waters."

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT
(Last of three articles on the farmer and national defense.)

WASHINGTON—In spite of the lend-lease program, which farm experts are estimating will shortly double agricultural exports from recent low levels, the most heartening thing to the American farmer in the national defense picture is the great increase in domestic consumer demand.

Although democracies are using in other democracies are supposed to be quite a secret. I could point out that since the lend-lease act has become operative, the Department of Agriculture has reported weekly purchases of such things as dry beans, 16,120,000 pounds; cheese, 3,018,000 pounds; shell eggs, about 142,000 cases;
fresh carrots, 138 tons; evaporated milk, 138,000 cases; canned to-matos, 618,675 cases; lard, nearly 22,000,000 pounds, and pork products, 40,419,000 pounds.

The only reason these figures are worth putting down is that these are some of the products Great Britain needs badly. With every report of purchase, the Agriculture Department is careful to point out that these purchases are made for domestic distribution to public aid families and for free school lunches. Re-Cross shipments to war refugee areas "and transfer to other countries under provisions of the lend-lease act"—or for release upon the market when this is desirable.

Exports Not Enough

THERE is no doubt but that all of this is true, but the increased purchases of products needed badly in the war countries is undoubtedly a major factor. That accounts for the prediction that the value of farm exports in the next few months may double, but even if they triple, such exports alone would not give the farmer any real security.

The greatest help undoubtedly will come from increased demand right in the United States. This is almost too obvious to need explaining by figures.

To put it as briefly as possible:
The Bureau of Agricultural Economics has doped it out that factory wages are about twice what they were in the very early 1920's and three times what they were at the bottom of the depression
in 1932-33.

"Purchasing power of factory wages in 1941 is at record levels, contributing to increased consumer demand for farm products," says the Bureau's report.

Not only that, but all employment has improved both in numbers and wages. The Bureau estimates that the net contribution of the federal government to the national buying power will be 10 billion dollars compared with four billion in 1940. Wages, for the most part, have gone up faster than the cost of living. With the government keeping an eagle eye on all prices, this ratio is likely to be maintained.

It has been proved before that when Johnny Worker gets a good job or higher wages he puts a big chunk of his earnings into more and better food.

I haven't found any one around here who thinks that this means any golden age for the American farmer, but there is no reason to believe that, for the most part, his condition won't improve.

'Food For Peace'

IN CONCLUSION, I want to give an informal quote from Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, for it seems to sum up the department's long-view program:

"In this war food will be more important than guns. I believe that. Some people haven't realized it yet. When a man is pointing a gun at you, you are thinking about another gun rather than something to eat; but maybe the way in which you can handle that gun depends upon how much you have had to eat and how much the people supporting you have had to eat.

"One other thing is on my mind.
If war ceases today or tomorrow, there would be more demand for some of these foods than there is now. The longer the war goes on the greater the post-war demand will be. When the negotiators gather around the peace conference table, if I visualize things correctly, there will be representatives of a lot of hungry people at that table. I hope our American representatives will be there and we will have peace that will last this time.

"I suspect that if some of these people representing undernourished and underfed people find that in America there is plenty of food, and some to spare for them, that may have some bearing on the attitude of those representatives. What I am saying is that plentiful supplies may be more important at the peace table than while war is going on.

"It is up to us to provide food for defense and reserves of food for peace."

the cradle of our civilization, for the country of Iraq is believed the site of the Garden of Eden. See if you can answer these questions about the ancient land.

1. By what names were the countries of Iraq and Iran formerly known?

2. Name the two rivers that flow through Iraq to form the valley believed site of the Garden of Eden.

3. What king of ancient Babylon built the famous hanging gardens there, and where are the ruins of Babylon now found?

4. In what part of the Near

5. Name the Mediterranean ports

FUNERAL TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY FOR LOCAL BOY

Funeral services for George Gumbetter, Jr., 4-year-old son of Mrs. George Gumbetter, of 3 Hemlock street, who was killed Sunday in an automobile accident near Toledo, Ohio, will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from St. John's Catholic church in Latrobe, followed by interment in St. Vincent's cemetery there, according to word received here this morning.

The body has been removed to the home of the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gumbetter, R. D. 2, Latrobe, on the New Alexandria road.

The child was killed when a car driven by his uncle, Andrew Gumbetter, overturned in a creek after hitting a hole in the road near Toledo.

The child's father lost his life three years ago today in a hunting accident near Latrobe.

It was announced today that the Gumbetter Taxidermy Studio here, which has been conducted by Mrs. Gumbetter since the death of her husband, will be closed until further notice.

MACKEREL BY EQUIPOISE

New York, May 21—Mackerel, the fish which tied the Belmont Park juvenile course record with five furlongs in 0.59 3-5, is from the last crop of Equipoise, which died as he was about to win renown as a progenitor.

There are 60,000 recorded cattle brands in Montana.

ESTHER S. PHILLIPS

Funeral services in memory of Esther S. Phillips, widow of Milton E. Phillips, were held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock from the Russell Methodist church with the Rev. R. S. Naylor officiating. Interment was in Pine Grove cemetery, with the following acting as bearers: Scott Phillips, Stewart Phillips, Paul Phillips, Leo Kelley, Howard Ramsdell and Pete Ostergard.

Those in attendance from out of town included the following: Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Sturm, Mrs. T. L. Jacobs, Mrs. E. M. Sain and Mrs. Hugh Perkins, of Olean, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phillips and Mrs. Kirk Dart, of Falconer, N. Y.; Mrs. William Nobb and Guy Hunt of Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Phillips, John Powers and John Hasler, of Frewsburg, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Seeling, of Kiantone, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin, Mrs. Mary L. Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moore, of North Warren.

MADE BELLE GROSCH

Mrs. Maude Belle Grosch, wife of Albert T. Grosch, 203 Jefferson avenue, passed away at the Warren General Hospital about noon yesterday.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Allen, a sister, Mrs. Fred Grosch, of Warren, and a brother, the Rev. Allen Vinton of Pikeville, Ky. Two children preceded her in death.

Mrs. Grosch was an active member of the First Lutheran church and was president of the Woman's Bible Class. She was secretary of the Warren Grange for many years. She also was a member of the W. C. T. U.

Friends may call at the home, 203 Jefferson avenue, until 11 a. m. Thursday. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Lutz Funeral Home with the Rev. E. K. Rogers officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Since 1930, gasoline tax payments by the American public have shown an increase 18 times as great as the nation's gain in population.

GROUP MEETINGS

Nine members of the Triumph 4-H Club met Friday with Mrs. Thelma Piendeagast, their first session. Project work for the summer was outlined and plans made for future meetings. The next will be at 4 p. m. on May 29.

4-4 Club meetings were held last week at Elkhart North Warren. Columbus Coham Hill, Stoneham and Clarendon. All were well attended, with considerable increase in enrollment indicated for the year. The Columbus group has decided on a foods project and theirs will be a breakfast club. The Coham Hill unit will take up canning and six of its members will form a special room improvement group. The Cuydon group will take up room improvement, also and the majority of other clubs will follow clothing projects.

The Cuydon group met Monday for its first work in room improvement and furniture arrangement was discussed. The Chandlers Valley unit met Tuesday and the Lander meeting is held today. The Glade club meets at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow and will continue work on programs.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Pity the poor plot-contractors who must carry on the Dorothy Lamour formula.

Essential ingredients, as you know, are a sweetie in a salong and a cataclysm of nature (as in "The Hurricane," "Typhoon," "Her Jungle Love" et al).

In "Typhoon" the saronged Lamour was tossed by the big wind, singed by a forest fire drenched by a tidal wave which put out the fire. Wind fire-wave made a formidable combination. How to top it? In "Alma of the South Seas" they called on Krakatoa, the East Indies island which "exploded" in the 1880's. But how to top Krakatoa in the next saronged adventure? Well, they might star Lamour in a piece about the end of the world.

Bonita Granville, who yesterday was a nasty little brat in "These Three" and became famous as the meanest little meanie on the screen, is 18 now, a whole-somely radiant youthful edition of a combined Norma Shearer-Ann Harding type. She's been growing up on the screen too, and in the gossip columns, watch late for her with Jackie Cooper. Bonita denies "romance" refers to "the gang" admits that within "the gang" there's usually a pairing-off, and that Bonita and Jackie (within "the gang," of course) usually make a pair. Does it remind you some way, of the younger set in your own home town?

MARGARET DUMONT, the long suffering lady of many Marx brothers movies has been reversing normal routine by getting fan mail for not appearing in a picture.

Miss Dumont has been with the Marxes off and on for 15 years playing Groucho's girl friend. In their last movie, "Go West" there was no role for her. She was missed. Scores of fan letters told her and the studio so. Miss Dumont is at her old stand in Bar gain Basement.

We meet again department Seymour Felix, the dance director, used to be on Broadway. From the chorus of one of his musicals, he one day fired a hooper whose wisecracks were better than his stepping. The hooper, broke, took a cheap boat to Hollywood.

Today nearly 15 years later Felix is dance director of the "Blues." Among the stars is his ex-hooper, Jack Oakie.

HOMOGENIZED MILK
A PERFECT DRINK...
FOR EVERYONE

Here are some of the reasons why Homogenized Milk is the perfect food drink... for young and old, alike.

The last drop of milk out of the bottle has the same fine flavor and food value as the first.

Vitamins A and D are evenly distributed and a fair proportion to each user of the milk.

The even distribution of the fat in the milk assists the stomach in handling the curds which are formed when the milk is taken into it. Encourage every member of the family to drink more of our Homogenized Milk... it's GOOD for you.

WHAT IS HOMOGENIZED MILK?

Homogenized Milk is just milk that has been squeezed through such small valve openings that the fat Globules have been broken into many small fragments. Nothing has been added to the milk and nothing has been taken from the milk. However, this change in the size of the fat globules has brought about some interesting changes in the properties of the milk.

FUNERAL TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY FOR LOCAL BOY

Funeral services for George Gumbetter, Jr., 4-year-old son of Mrs. George Gumbetter, of 3 Hemlock street, who was killed Sunday in an automobile accident near Toledo, Ohio, will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from St. John's Catholic church in Latrobe, followed by interment in St. Vincent's cemetery there, according to word received here this morning.

The body has been removed to the home of the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gumbetter, R. D. 2, Latrobe, on the New Alexandria road.

The child was killed when a car driven by his uncle, Andrew Gumbetter, overturned in a creek after hitting a hole in the road near Toledo.

The child's father lost his life three years ago today in a hunting accident near Latrobe. It was announced today that the Gumbetter Taxidermy Studio here, which has been conducted by Mrs. Gumbetter since the death of her husband, will be closed until further notice.

IN LOGICAL sequence to the set-dressing miracle which brought a mountain to DeMille for "North West Mounted Police," another is under way for his "Reap the Wild Wind." DeMille will have his own private sea, a glass and steel tank, 100 feet long, on the beach at Malibu. DeMille, you can readily see, will be in his glory, for as actors Ray Milland and John Wayne in full diving equipment descend for closeup scenes, DeMille in a diving helmet will direct. But I'm worried. There's a fellow who, on prosaic land scenes, has the job of seeing that DeMille, whenever he sits, always has a chair handy. Suppose the fellow can't swim. . . .

Legion Auxiliary Entertains With Special Mother's Day Event; Plans for the Future

American Legion Auxiliary members held an enjoyable Mother's Day party at the Legion Home last evening with Gold Star Mothers and members and guests as specially invited guests.

The Gold Star Mothers present were Mrs. Ralph Armstrong, Mrs. W. J. Humiston, Mrs. Lydia Spangler and Mrs. Lucie Mead.

Dinner tables were attractively appointed with blue and white and white roses. The committee for this pleasing function was composed of Mrs. Ralph A. Farish, Mrs. Archie Black, Mrs. Alvin Blanch, Mrs. Ed Beck, Mrs. Everett Eddy, Mrs. Marshall Hansen and Mrs. Siegfried Anderson.

During dinner three of the juniors Jean Scapan, Jean Cannon and Dorothy Munksgaard with Mrs. Walter Seaman accompanying sang "Mother".

Following the auxiliary's business session the juniors presented a play "Daring Daughters" with the following participating: Patsy Storum, Jean Cannon, Jean Seaman, Marie Johansen, Barbara Chester and Joyce Gilson, with Patsy Chester as coach.

To conclude William I. Walker showed moving pictures of the Keystone Camp for Girls which will be attended this summer by three local juniors, Dorothy Munksgaard, Barbara Chester and Jean Cannon. The auxiliary will finance two of the group and the juniors will send their president, Miss Munksgaard.

Mrs. C. D. Cannon vice president was in charge of the business session when a report was presented on the recent Inter-County Council meeting at which she attended by five local delegates. At that gathering the work of the auxiliary and the need for child welfare work was discussed.

Sugar Grove

Sugar Grove, May 19—The Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Verabell Pfirsch, with Mrs. C. L. Veness, assisting hostess. Mrs. Veness presided and conducted the business meeting. Mrs. J. A. Nobbs conducted the devotion on the subject of "Faith." Mrs. J. H. Cruikshank, Presbyterian president, of North Warren, was introduced, and gave a very fine report of the recent Presbyterian meeting at Greenville. Twenty-four members and guests were in attendance. One new member was received.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Dale Nobbs, and Mrs. Fulton McKay in serving refreshments. Miss Margaret Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Stewart will be hostesses for the next meeting, with Miss Josephine Ricker as program leader.

Mrs. Hazel Thompson Henderson shot was given a delightful variety shower party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John Anderson by Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Delmar Mickleson and Mrs. Roy Briggs. Twenty-eight ladies were present. Several contests were enjoyed with Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Mrs. Irvim Young, Mrs. Walter Warner and Mrs. R. E. Abbott receiving prizes. The many lovely and useful gifts were presented from a white crepe umbrella with streamers leading to the hidden package.

A dainty two course lunch was served. Lovely arrangements of wild flowers were used for decoration. Out of town guests were Mrs. Johnson and daughters, Ruth and Edna, and Mrs. Young, of Corry, Mrs. Catherine Carr, of Youngsville; Mrs. Laurence Saxton, Ashville, N. Y.; Mrs. Wilbur Thompson, Mrs. Harold Thompson and Mrs. Robert Bates of Jamestown.

Mrs. Traverse Stohlberg entertained the N. B. Club and several guests Wednesday evening. Three tables of bridge were played with prizes going to Miss Amelia Chandler and Miss Ardrah Chandler.

Plans were discussed for sponsoring a benefit bridge for the Girl Scouts. The president, Mrs. John Stuart, appointed as the general committee. Mrs. Stohlberg, Miss Caribell Swanson and Mrs. Burt Schoonover, and Mrs. Fulton McKay, publicity.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Brainard attended the funeral of Rev. Davidson, at Conneaut Lake, Wednesday.

Fulton McKay entertained the men members of the faculty of the Celoron High School at his home Thursday. Alton Peterson, of the Dunkirk faculty, was also a guest. The evening was spent with cards and Mrs. McKay served a two course supper.

Fourteen babies were examined at the Well Baby Clinic, Wednesday afternoon and several school children were given the Schick test.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miller and four daughters are spending a few days in Washington, D. C., with Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Edna Broughton, and daughter, Miss Hazel Broughton.

Gene Tierney, one of Hollywood's prettiest stars, has the ideal 1941 figure—and it's a striking contrast to the flat-chested, completely curvaceous figure which was ideal 10 years ago.

Legion Auxiliary Entertains With Special Mother's Day Event; Plans for the Future

American Legion Auxiliary members held an enjoyable Mother's Day party at the Legion Home last evening, with Gold Star Mothers, new members and juniors as specially invited guests. The Gold Star Mothers present were Mrs. Ralph Armstrong, Mrs. W. J. Humiston, Mrs. Lydia Spangler and Mrs. Lucie Mead.

Dinner tables were attractively appointed with blue and white linens and white tapers. The committee for this pleasing function was composed of Mrs. Ralph A. Marshall, Mrs. Archie Black, Mrs. Alan Branch, Mrs. Ed Beck, Mrs. Everett Eddy, Mrs. Marshall Hansen and Mrs. Siegfried Anderson.

During dinner, three of the juniors, Jean Seaman, Jean Cannon and Dorothy Munksgaard, with Mrs. Walter Seaman accompanying, sang "Mother."

Following the auxiliary's business session, the juniors presented a play, "Daring Daughters", with the following participating: Patty Storum, Jean Cannon, Jean Seaman, Marie Johansen, Barbara Chester and Joyce Gilson, with Patsy Chester as coach.

To conclude, William I. Walker showed moving pictures of the Keystone Camp for Girls, which will be attended this summer by three local juniors, Dorothy Munksgaard, Barbara Chester and Jean Cannon. The auxiliary will finance two of the group and the juniors will send their president, Miss Munksgaard.

Mrs. C. D. Cannon, vice president, was in charge of the business session, when a report was presented on the recent Inter-County Council meeting at Smethport, attended by five local delegates. At that gathering, the work of the auxiliary and the need for child welfare work were given.

Sugar Grove

Sugar Grove, May 19.—The Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Verdel Pirsch, with Mrs. C. L. Veness, assisting hostess. Mrs. Veness presided and conducted the business meeting. Mrs. J. A. Nobbs conducted the devotion on the subject of "Faith." Mrs. J. H. Cruikshank, Presbyterian president, of North Warren, was introduced, and gave a very fine report of the recent Presbyterian meeting at Greenville. Twenty-four members and guests were in attendance. One new member was received.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Dale Nobbs, and Mrs. Fulton McKay in serving refreshments. Miss Margaret Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Stewart will be hostesses for the next meeting, with Miss Josephine Ricker as program leader.

Mrs. Hazel Thompson Henderson was given a delightful variety shower party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John Anderson by Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Delmar Mickelson and Mrs. Roy Briggs. Twenty-eight ladies were present. Several contests were enjoyed with Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Mrs. Irvin Young, Mrs. Walter Warner and Mrs. R. E. Abbott receiving prizes. The many lovely and useful gifts were presented from a white crepe umbrella with streamers leading to the hidden package.

A dainty two course lunch was served. Lovely arrangements of wild flowers were used for decoration. Out of town guests were Mrs. Johnson and daughters, Ruth and Edna, and Mrs. Young, of Corry; Mrs. Catherine Carr, of Youngsville; Mrs. Laurence Saxton, of Ashville, N. Y.; Mrs. Wilbur Thompson, Mrs. Harold Thompson and Mrs. Robert Bates of Jamestown.

Mrs. Traverse Stohlberg entertained the N. B. Club and several guests Wednesday evening. Three tables of bridge were played with prizes going to Miss Amelia Chandler and Miss Ardath Chandler.

Plans were discussed for sponsoring a benefit bridge for the Girl Scouts. The president, Mrs. John Stuart, appointed as the general committee, Mrs. Stohlberg, Miss Caribell Swanson and Mrs. Burt Schoonover, and Mrs. Fulton McKay, publicity.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Brainard attended the funeral of Rev. Davidson, at Conneaut Lake, Wednesday.

Fulton McKay entertained the men members of the faculty of the Celoron High School at his home Thursday. Alton Peterson, of the Dunkirk faculty, was also a guest. The evening was spent with cards and Mrs. McKay served a two course supper.

Fourteen babies were examined at the Well Baby Clinic, Wednesday afternoon and several school children were given the Schick test.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miller and four daughters are spending a few days in Washington, D. C., with Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Edna Broughton, and daughter, Miss Hazel Broughton.

Boy Scout Handbook Has Many Features

The Boy Scouts of America, through Dr. James E. West, chief Scout executive, has just announced that the Boy Scout Handbook, a best seller, is now appearing with a new cover, added colored section and many new illustrations. Its cover by Norman Rockwell, famous artist, shows a Cub, a Boy Scout and a Sea Scout, headed for adventure. The color insert contains flag code information, Scout uniform and insignia illustrations including the designs of 108 merit badges and space for a Scout's record of personal progress. There are 400,000 copies in this printing which is the 33rd printing of the Revised Handbook.

In the same colored section the Scout oath and law are shown being engraved in stone by a Boy Scout, against a background of the famous Mount Rushmore Memorial in South Dakota, featuring the sculptured heads of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt. This scene was painted for the Boy Scouts of America by Remington Schuyler, prominent artist and Eagle Scout.

The "Handbook for Boys" is not only one of the books best known to American boys but also the most used volume of its kind. Since it was first published in 1910, 6,000,000 copies have been issued. In its thirty-one years the volume has become a friend and helpful partner to the 99,000,000 Scouts and leaders who played or are playing the game of Scouting. Used by Scouts and non-Scouts alike, the Handbook contains a wealth of material on first aid, nature study, camping, outdoor cooking, pioneering, health and safety.

Butter-Krust Enriched Bread is one of the most important foods for children, as well as grown-ups because it contains added vitamins and minerals so necessary to the daily diet. the ease of making dishcloths snowy-white, fresh-smelling and sanitary with the help of Ultra-refined Clorox.

The audience was especially attentive to the lecture which was based on the findings of bacteriologists.

"Surely just a moment's reflection," Mrs. Baldrige said, "will make you realize that a dishcloth is probably one of the most fertile of breeding grounds for germs. Actually millions of germs, which are invisible to the eye, can thrive on just a square inch area of a dishcloth, even one that looks clean. Naturally, lots of these germs are easily transferred to dishes, glasses, knives, forks, spoons, and may endanger health. That's why I can't emphasize too strongly the importance of cleansing your dishcloth with Ultra-refined Clorox. If you could only look at your dishcloth or dish mop through the microscope, before and after cleansing with Clorox, use.

you'd see for yourself the positive effects of Ultra-refined Clorox in combating germs. Its intensified germicidal efficiency makes dishcloths hygienically clean."

Another point which impressed the audience was Miss Baldrige's comparison of Ultra-refined Clorox to the famous Dakin's solution, used by doctors and surgeons for wet dressings and irrigating wounds. She quoted the Clorox label which says: "One part Clorox thoroughly mixed with 10 parts cold water makes a sodium hypochlorite solution equal in disinfecting properties to Dakin's

Boy Scout Handbook Has Many Features

The Boy Scouts of America, through Dr. James E. West, chief Scout executive, has just announced that the Boy Scout Handbook, a best seller, is now appearing with a new cover, added colored section and many new illustrations. Its cover by Norman Rockwell, famous artist, shows a Cub, a Boy Scout and a Sea Scout, headed for adventure. The color insert contains flag code information, Scout uniform and insignia illustrations, including the designs of 106 merit badges and space for a Scout's record of personal progress. There are 400,000 copies in this printing which is the 32nd printing of the Revised Handbook.

In the same colored section the Scout oath and law are shown being engraved in stone by a Boy Scout, against a background of the famous Mount Rushmore Memorial in South Dakota, featuring the sculptured heads of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt. This scene was painted for the Boy Scouts of America by Remington Schuyler, prominent artist and Eagle Scout.

The "Handbook for Boys" is not only one of the books best known to American boys but also the most used volume of its kind. Since it was first published in 1910, 6,000,000 copies have been issued. In its thirty-one years the volume has become a friend and helpful partner to the $9,600,000 Scouts and leaders who played or are playing the game of Scouting.

Used by Scouts and non-Scouts alike, the Handbook contains a wealth of material on first aid, nature study, camping, outdoor cooking, pioneering, health and safety.

CLOROX COOKING SCHOOLS WOMEN LEARN DISHCLOTH DANGERS AND HOW TO REDUCE THEM

One of the most important subjects discussed yesterday by Mrs. Katharine Baldrige at the Warren Times-Mirror Cooking School was the health menace presented by the average soiled dishcloth and

BUTTER-KRUST BREAD ... Now ENRICHED!

At No Extra Cost to You

Now Better Than Ever ...

Butter-Krust Enriched Bread is one of the most important foods for children, as well as grown-ups because it contains added vitamins and minerals so necessary to the daily diet. Now, more than ever is a well balanced diet important, with our national defense program underway, with its added strain. Butter-Krust meets the requirements proposed by the committee on food and nutrition of the national research council for "Enriched white Bread."

the ease of making dishcloths snowy-white, fresh-smelling and sanitary with the help of Ultra-refined Clorox.

The audience was especially attentive to the lecture which was based on the findings of bacteriologists.

"Surely just a moment's reflection," Mrs. Baldrige said "will make you realize that a dishcloth is probably one of the most fertile of breeding grounds for germs. Actually millions of germs, which are invisible to the eye, can thrive on just a square inch area of a dishcloth — even one that looks clean. Naturally, lots of these germs are easily transferred to dishes, glasses, knives, forks, spoons, and may endanger health. That's why I can't emphasize too strongly the importance of cleansing your dishcloth with Ultra-refined Clorox. If you could only look at your dishcloth or dish through the microscope, before and after cleansing with Clorox, you'd see for yourself the positive effects of Ultra-refined Clorox in combating germs. Its intensified germicidal efficiency makes dishcloths hygienically clean."

Another point which impressed the audience was Miss Baldrige's comparison of Ultra-refined Clorox to the famous Dakin's solution, used by doctors and surgeons for wet dressings and irrigating wounds. She quoted the Clorox label which says: "One part Clorox thoroughly mixed with 10 parts cold water makes a sodium hypochlorite solution equal in disinfecting properties to Dakin's solution." She mentioned this as authoritative proof of the value and efficiency of Ultra-refined Clorox in hygienic household cleansing as well as in personal use.

New Selective Service System for Examinations Inaugurated Today; More Questionnaires Are Mailed

Pennsylvania became the testing ground for the nation today as the U. S. Army summoned 18,967 men for physical examinations under an experimental "waiting period" induction plan devised to give the Selective Service registrant "a break."

For a month the men will report to eight army stations for final physical examinations. Those who pass will return home subject to call within ten to thirty days. Those rejected will resume their normal life.

Previously, men called from the commonwealth's 422 local draft boards went into service immediately after passing final physical tests.

The Associated Press quotes Dr. William Mather Lewis, Pennsylvania director of Selective Service, as saying that he had been informed the plan, if successful, "will be applied to the entire nation."

The plan, Lewis said, is designed to give the registrant more time to adjust his affairs before entering the army. At the beginning, the waiting period will be 30 or twelve days but will gradually broaden out up to nearly 80 days. It cannot exceed that figure because the army requires re-examination after 30 days.

Each examination station will notify state Selective Service headquarters daily of the number of men found physically fit and local boards will then be asked to supply the number needed.

Pennsylvania for the past several months has been asked to provide quotas of men three times a month, but under the new plan only one call for induction will be made each 30 days. The Army's latest call requisitioned 5,349 men for induction between June 11 and June 20.

Warren county's first call for men to report for final examination was for 70 men to report on June 20. Other counties which will send their men to Erie for examination are Clarion, Crawford, Erie, Forest, Mercer and Venango.

Each of the two local draft boards yesterday mailed classification questionnaires to half a hundred additional men. Those from Local Board No. 1 have order numbers from 1543 to 1593, inclusive, while those from Local Board No. 2 have numbers from 1476 to 1525, inclusive.

The following received questionnaires from Board No. 1:

George M. Schrecongost, 1528 Pennsylvania avenue, west; Lyle E. Conroe, R. D. 1, East Kane; John J. Hedges, 546 Crescent Park; James A. Keller, 116 Main avenue; Philip G. ### MOLASSES COCOA CAKE

2 cups Spry 2 eggs, unbeaten
1 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup lard
1 teaspoon vanilla 1/2 cup light molasses
1 tablespoon 1 teaspoon soda
1 cup brown sugar 1 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup milk 1 cup thick sour milk

Blend Spry, salt, vanilla and cocoa. Add brown sugar gradually and cream well. (Done so quickly—Spry mixes like magic!) Add eggs, singly, beating well after each addition. Add molasses and blend.

Sift soda with flour 3 times. Add flour to creamed mixture, alternately with sour milk, mixing after each addition until smooth. Bake in 10x10x2-inch Spry-greased pan in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 to 60 minutes. Frost with Vanilla Cream Frosting. See what a light, fine-grained cake Spry gives. And what a nice little saving you make compared to using expensive cake shortening!

VANILLA CREAM FROSTING

2 tablespoons Spry 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon 5 tablespoons scalded cream
1 teaspoon vanilla 1/2 teaspoon salt

Blend Spry, butter, vanilla and salt. Beat in 1/2 cup sugar. Add hot cream, alternately with remaining sugar, beating well after each addition. Add only enough cream to make a nice spreading consistency. Use this delicious, easy-to-make Spry frosting for other cakes, too.

Sugar Grove

Sugar Grove, May 16—The May meeting of the Try Company Sunday school class Tuesday evening, took the form of a mother and daughter banquet at the church. Seventy-five mothers and daughters were seated at tables centered with tulips and narcissus. Miss Josephine Ricker, president of the class, acted as toastmistress. Mrs. Scott Stuart conducted a devotional period with all taking part. Mrs. Carl Perrin, gave the toast to the daughters and Miss Ina-bell Phillips the toast to the mothers.

The following musical numbers, with Mrs. Clarence White as accompanist were given: Group singing of hymns, Mrs. Scott Stuart, Jr., Miss Kay Blachman, Ina-bell Phillips, Virginia White, and Mary Andersen sang "The Sweetest Music." The "Slumber Song" was sung by the following girls of Mrs. McKay's class: Audrey White, Barbara Johnson, Patricia Abbott, Mildred Devereaux and Susan Summerson.

Miss Mary Andersen sang two solo numbers. Betty Phillips gave a reading, "I Love You Mother," and Miss Ricker gave a short reading "Away."

The program closed with the singing of Home Sweet Home. Miss Ricker and Mrs. J. A. McIntosh were refreshment committee and Mrs. Fulton McKay, Mrs. Charles White and Mrs. Walter Kelley were dining room committee. Flowers for the decorations were provided by Mrs. Leonard Lake and others.

Out of town daughters present were Mrs. Jane Phillips Devereaux, Buffalo; Mrs. Dora Frodelius Lord, Fluvanna; Mrs. Helen Hag-

erty Anderson and Miss Luella Nobbs, Jamestown; Mrs. Hazel Sherrard Chestnut and Mrs. Margaret Wright Hartman, Warren. Out of town mothers were Mrs. Andrew Johnson, of the Wellman Road and Mrs. C. L. Ekdahl. The Sugar Grove local of the Daughters' League will meet May 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Tuley.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Marchant, and daughters Nancy and Ethel were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlburg.

Dr. Warren Greene, of Buffalo, has been ill the past four weeks with a kidney infection, and has now been able to return to his work.

Mrs. Ida Thompson, of Westfield, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. Charles Barrett.

The Hill house on Mechanic street has been purchased by E. R. Tuley and is being razed and the material will be used in building in another locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Boswell, were surprised at their home Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boswell, Jamestown, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Groves, of Lakewood, N. "Cooking the Spry
FULL FLAVOR way means compliments for the cook! I hear this constantly from women I meet at my Cooking Schools. For purer Spry lets natural food flavors come through FULL and true and delicious."

MOLASSES COCOA CAKE

2 1/2 cups Spry
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
5 tablespoons
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed

2 eggs, unbeaten
1/2 cup light molasses
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups sifted flour
1 cup thick sour milk

Blend Spry, salt, vanilla and cocoa.
Add brown sugar gradually and cream well. (Done so quickly—Spry mixes like magic!) Add eggs, singly, beating well after each addition. Add molasses and blend.

Sift soda with flour 3 times. Add flour to creamed mixture, alternately with sour milk, mixing after each addition until smooth. Bake in 10x 10 1/2-inch Spry-greased pan in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 to 60 minutes.
Frost with Vanilla Cream Frosting.
Spry gives. And what a nice little savings you make compared to using expensive cake shortening!

VANILLA CREAM FROSTING

2 tablespoons Spry
1/2 cup sifted con-fectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt

5 cups sifted con-fectioners' sugar
5 tablespoons scalded cream
1/2 teaspoon salt

Blend Spry, butter, vanilla and salt.
Beat in 1/2 cup sugar. Add hot cream, alternately with remaining sugar, beating well after each addition. Add only enough cream to make a nice spreading consistency. Use this delicious, easy-to-make Spry frosting for other cakes, too.

TRIPLE-CREAMED
FOR EASIER MIXING

Taste that tempting blend of molasses, brown sugar and cocoa, so FULL and rich. Purer Spry doesn't "dull" flavor as ordinary shortenings may

OF COURSE Spry cakes are lighter cakes —tender, fine-grained, velvety, too.
But the big reason why folks fairly rave about them is the way they taste!
And how quickly they're mixed. Spry creams so easily. It's purer, too, and stays fresh longer. Three big extra advantages for the cook! I hear this constantly from women I meet at my Cooking Schools. For purer Spry lets natural food flavors come through FULL and true and delicious.

Sugar Grove

Sugar Grove, May 16—The May meeting of the Try Company Sunday school class Tuesday evening, took the form of a mother and daughter banquet at the church. Seventy-five mothers and daughters were seated at tables centered with tulips and narcissus. Miss Josephine Ricker, president of the class, acted as toastmistress. Mrs. Scott Stuart conducted a devotional period with all taking part. Mrs. Carl Perrin, gave the toast to the daughters and Miss Ina-bell Phillips the toast to the mothers.

The following musical numbers, with Mrs. Clarence White as accompanist were given: Group singing of hymns, Mrs. Scott Stuart, Jr., Miss Kay Blachman, Ina-bell Phillips, Virginia White, and Mary Andersen sang "The Sweetest Music." The "Slumber Song" was sung by the following girls of Mrs. McKay's class: Audrey White, Barbara Johnson, Patricia Abbott, Mildred Devereaux and Susan Summerson.

Miss Mary Andersen sang two solo numbers.

Betty Phillips gave a reading, "I Love You Mother," and Miss Ricker gave a short reading "Away."

The program closed with the singing of Home Sweet Home.

Miss Ricker and Mrs. J. A. McIntosh were refreshment committee and Mrs. Fulton McKay, Mrs. Charles White and Mrs. Walter Kelley were dining room committee. Flowers for the decorations were provided by Mrs. Leonard Lake and others.

Out of town daughters present were Mrs. Jane Phillips Devereaux, Buffalo; Mrs. Dora Frodelius Lord, Fluvanna; Mrs. Helen Haggerty Anderson and Miss Luella Nobbs, Jamestown; Mrs. Hazel Sherrard Chestnut and Mrs. Margaret Wright Hartman, Warren. Out of town mothers were Mrs. Andrew Johnson, of the Wellman Road and Mrs. C. L. Eldahl.

The Sugar Grove local of the Dairymen's League will meet May 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Tuley.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Marchant, and daughters Nancy and Ethel were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlborg.

Dr. Warren Greene, of Buffalo, has been ill the past four weeks with a kidney infection, and has now been able to return to his work.

Mrs. Ida Thompson, of Westfield, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. Charles Barrett.

The Hill house on Mechanic street has been purchased by E. R. Tuley and is being razed and the material will be used in building in another locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Boswell, were surprised at their home Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boswell, Jamestown, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Groves, of Lakewood, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Alden Stearns came to help them celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary. Refreshments were served which included a wedding cake baked by Mrs. Robert Boswell. The guests of honor were presented with a gift.

GRAND MASTER WILL PAY VISIT TO THIS COUNTY

Odd Fellows of Warren county are looking forward to an outstanding meeting at Tidoute on Friday, May 30, when Samuel I. Kollar, of Shillington, grand master of the state of Pennsylvania, will make his official visit to the county. It was announced today by Charles B. Morrow, secretary of Eden Lodge, No. 666, I. O. O. F., of Tidoute.

A banquet will be held at the Hotel Tidoute for members of the order and friends at 6:30 p. m. Reservations for this banquet must be made with Mr. Morrow by May 27.

Following the banquet, an open meeting will be held in the Tidoute lodge rooms. Speakers for the evening will include Deputy Grand Master Water H. Klein, of East Brady; Past Grand Master Henry Robinson, of Pittsburgh; Robert W. Haas, superintendent of the I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home at Meadville; A. G. Elsholtz, superintendent of Wayside Inn at Grove City; Earl Bishop, of Butler, and other prominent men of the order.

It was announced that the I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home Band, of Meadville, will lead the Memorial Day parade in Tidoute again this year.

Hull Asks Definite Assertion

problem for the United States, for this country is unsympathetic to the thought of the two ships eventually finding their way into Axis hands.

In the broader field of Franco-American relations, the United States was understood to have lost faith completely in verbal pledges transmitted to the State Department by the French envoy.

The reported reason was that the pledges have not prevented the Vichy government's pro-Nazi elements (as Secretary Hull is understood to call them) from forcing obedience to Nazi demands for increasing "cooperation."

Permitting Nazi warplanes to use airfields in French-occupied Syria for operations against the British in Iraq was cited as a specific example of Vichy's acquiescence to demands beyond the requirements of the armistice.

In this connection, informed quarters said that France's action might constitute a violation of the 1924 convention between the French and American republics, which stipulated that no part of the mandated territory should be "placed under control of a foreign power" unless the United States assents.

Henry Hull set the diplomatic pot boiling yesterday when he conferred for an hour with Secretary Hull, seeking to find out why Franco-German "collaboration" had caused an "explosion of emotion" here and inspired President Roosevelt to warn the French against allying themselves "with a military power" bent on "the utter destruction of freedom."

Mill Deducted From Personal Property Tax

With the entire budget coming out today, Achtermann predicted final adjournment of the 1941 session "sometime between the week ending June 7 and the week ending June 14." It started January 7.

The financial program has yet to go through the Republican Senate where Floor Leader James A. Clegg expressed doubt that it was possible to cut taxes at this time.

In its final form, James' budget was increased $20,000,000 by the Democratic House, adding $12,000,000 for state supervision of county mental institutions and another $8,000,000 for payment of postponed school subsidies.

The governor said this action throws his budget "out of balance."

The Democratic leadership decided, Achtermann said, to pass the administration's relief appropriation of $131,000,000 for the next two years without change.

Congressional Changes Cause House Tangle

the right of the committee to report a "certified copy" of the Senate bill, since the original was in O'Connor's possession and William Carson, the House sergeant at arms, was ordered to go out and bring him before the House.

Carson later reported he found O'Connor ill in his hotel room. At the same time Rep. William L. Shaffer (D-Allegheny), vice chairman of the committee, reported that O'Connor had given him the official copy of the Senate bill.

On motion of Rep. Achtermann all debate concerning the substitute bill was stricken from the record, and O'Connor was given a leave of absence because of illness.

THE SACRED DAGGER

By Rita Mohler Nanton

YESTERDAY: Anne Willard has been met at a desert station by Pete Mackey, and is being flown to her father's camp. But before Pete arrived, a stranger happened by, and strangely interested Anne. And then two natives brought her a dagger, a token from her father. And now she and Pete just have rescued the white stranger, whose airplane had crashed on the wide plain. His nickname is Blaze.

Chapter Three
Accident

ANNE'S companion took off his helmet. "To rest my ears," he shouted, and wiggled them skillfully. Now, she understood the name Mackey had called him. A white blaze streaked his dark hair above the left eye. She had heard this is a mark of peculiar inheritance passed on by mother to son or from father to daughter. Gypsies regard such people as being especially blessed.

Presently they passed over a small, nomadic encampment of men and horses and Anne recalled the dagger that she wore. She wondered how much this young man knew about it, if anything. As they sailed over rough country again, the air seemed to take on the nature of the landscape below.

The bottom fell out of the world.

Mackey attempted to rise to escape the bumps. Suddenly, the wing fabric started to loosen and he levelled out.

Her companion tested Anne's safety belt, hastily stuffed the cushions about her on the farther side and lifted his bed roll against the cowl in front of them. They heard Mackey yell as he cut the engine.

A lurch, a drop, and the bottom fell out of the world.

Gregory Sherwood

WHEN Anne regained consciousness, she lay wrapped in a fur robe in the shelter of the unbroken wing of the plane. The young man called Blaze was working over Mackey, washing blood from the side of his head. Anne felt faint again for a moment, and then rallied and sat up. Except for the shaking and a bump on her forehead and for a swollen left thumb that was twisted in a peculiar position, there seemed to be nothing wrong with her. The young man came over.

"I've been remembering," she remarked before he could speak. "That last night you said, 'Au revoir' instead of goodbye. Was it intentional?"

He grinned. "I'd hoped to see you in Chuka. How are you feeling?"

Mute she held up the injured thumb. He frowned and took her hand in his, examined the member carefully, felt along the bones and with a sudden, unexpected jerk, pulled them into place. Anne gave a little gasp and then laughed.

"You did that like a professional!"

"I'm a Jack of all trades," he said, sitting down crosslegged opposite her and added, "an archaeologist has to be. My name is Gregory Sherwood."

He nodded. "What does your father say about me?"

She spoke stiffly. "Of course he thinks you have no right to interfere in his quest for Shy-a Nago."

"I'm compelled to disagree with that," he replied gently. "You see, I heard of Shy-a Nago before he did. I was working on a way to prohibit the Nagara tribesmen when your parents stumbled upon them under particularly favorable circumstances."

"You," she interrupted, her

equanimity restored, "are out of luck. This thing is like a gold rush. The first man who stakes the claim gets the concession."

"The claim is not staked yet," he reminded her.

She let her hand rest on the ceremonial dagger hidden under her coat. "I carry the stake."

"I know," he admitted.

She had wondered. "And you can't influence father's decision?"

"At least I can talk to him." He took a pipe from his mouth. "May 12?" She nodded. Mackey came over and dropped down beside them. "You two know each other before?" he asked curiously.

Anne said, "We've discovered that we are natural enemies."

"How romantic," he jested. "There is only one ending to that situation."

"This affair," said Anne drily, "is going to be different. How does it happen we are still alive?"

"I don't know," said Mackey. "Unless it is the Sherwood luck. Twice in one day. Maybe there is luck in having a name so much like that of the old Buddha Sherdock of Shani Lun." He rose to appraise the damage on his plane.

Anne looked up at the desolation about them, the endless ridges of gravelly sand with an occasional clump of camelthorn, the lowering horizon, the threat of snowstorm. This was the eastern fringe of Omar Khayyam's part of the world.

"I've been remembering," she remarked before he could speak. "That last night you said, 'Au revoir' instead of goodbye. Was it intentional?"

He grinned. "I'd hoped to see you in Chuka. How are you feeling?"

Mute she held up the injured thumb. He frowned and took her hand in his, examined the member carefully, felt along the bones and with a sudden, unexpected jerk, pulled them into place. Anne gave a little gasp and then laughed.

"You did that like a professional!"

"I'm a Jack of all trades," he said, sitting down crosslegged opposite her and added, "an archaeologist has to be. My name is Gregory Sherwood."

He nodded. "What does your father say about me?"

She spoke stiffly. "Of course he thinks you have no right to interfere in his quest for Shy-a Nago."

"I'm compelled to disagree with that," he replied gently. "You see, I heard of Shy-a Nago before he did. I was working on a way to prohibit the Nagara tribesmen when your parents stumbled upon them under particularly favorable circumstances."

"You," she interrupted, her

equanimity restored, "are out of luck. This thing is like a gold rush. The first man who stakes the claim gets the concession."

"The claim is not staked yet," he reminded her.

She let her hand rest on the ceremonial dagger hidden under her coat. "I carry the stake."

"I know," he admitted.

She had wondered. "And you can't influence father's decision?"

"At least I can talk to him." He took a pipe from his mouth. "May 12?" She nodded. Mackey came over and dropped down beside them. "You two know each other before?" he asked curiously.

Anne said, "We've discovered that we are natural enemies."

"How romantic," he jested. "There is only one ending to that situation."

"This affair," said Anne drily, "is going to be different. How does it happen we are still alive?"

"I don't know," said Mackey. "Unless it is the Sherwood luck. Twice in one day. Maybe there is luck in having a name so much like that of the old Buddha Sherdock of Shani Lun." He rose to appraise the damage on his plane.

Anne looked up at the desolation about them, the endless ridges of gravelly sand with an occasional clump of camelthorn, the lowering horizon, the threat of snowstorm. This was the eastern fringe of Omar Khayyam's part of the world.

THE SACRED DAGGER

By Rita Mohler Nanton

YESTERDAY: Anne Willard has been met at a desert station by Pete Mackey, and is being flown to her father's camp. But before Pete arrived, a stranger happened by, and strangely interested Anne. And then two natives brought her a dagger, a token from her father. And now she and Pete just have rescued the white stranger, whose airplane had crashed on the wide plain. His nickname is Blaze.

Chapter Three
Accident

ANNE'S companion took off his helmet. "To rest my ears," he shouted, and wiggled them skillfully. Now, she understood the name Mackey had called him. A white blaze streaked his dark hair above the left eye. She had heard this is a mark of peculiar inheritance passed on by mother to son or from father to daughter. Gypsies regard such people as being especially blessed.

Presently they passed over a small, nomadic encampment of men and horses and Anne recalled the dagger that she wore. She wondered how much this young man knew about it, if anything. As they sailed over rough country again, the air seemed to take on the nature of the landscape below.

The bottom fell out of the world.

Mackey attempted to rise to escape the bumps. Suddenly, the wing fabric started to loosen and he levelled out.

Her companion tested Anne's safety belt, hastily stuffed the cushions about her on the farther side and lifted his bed roll against the cowl in front of them. They heard Mackey yell as he cut the engine.

A lurch, a drop, and the bottom fell out of the world.

Gregory Sherwood

WHEN Anne regained consciousness, she lay wrapped in a fur robe in the shelter of the unbroken wing of the plane. The young man called Blaze was working over Mackey, washing blood from the side of his head. Anne felt faint again for a moment, and then rallied and sat up. Except for the shaking and a bump on her forehead and for a swollen left thumb that was twisted in a peculiar position, there seemed to be nothing wrong with her. The young man came over.

"I've been remembering," she remarked before he could speak. "That last night you said, 'Au revoir' instead of goodbye. Was it intentional?"

He grinned. "I'd hoped to see you in Chuka. How are you feeling?"

OBITUARY

J. M. LITTLE

Word was received in Warren today of the death of J. M. Little, former resident of this city, which occurred in Tulsa, Okla., Monday. The funeral services will be held at Skiatook, Okla., where he had lived for many years. The body is being brought to the Kerr Funeral Home in Titusville, where short services will be conducted Friday at two p. m., after which it will be brought to Warren for interment in the family lot in Oakland cemetery.

Older residents of the west side where Mr. Little lived with his family before leaving for Oklahoma thirty years ago will remember him as a citizen of high standing and a very likeable personality.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. W. O. Foreman, wife of the supervising principal of the New Salem, Pa., schools. In addition to Mrs. Foreman, he leaves a granddaughter, Mrs. Charles F. Eggers II, and a great-granddaughter, Rachel Lenore Eggers, of Uniontown; two sisters, Mrs. Harry Boylen, Titusville, and Mrs. William Fleming, Pleasantville; three brothers, D. A. Little, Tulsa, Okla., and G. A. Little, Denver, Okla., and Mr. J. Little, Tulsa. His wife, Emma Young Little, passed away in 1905.

Mr. Little was a member of the Presbyterian church and the Masonic Lodge at Skiatook, Okla.

JOHN C. HARRINGTON, SR.

Funeral services in memory of John C. Harrington, Sr., well known Irvine resident and railroad man, were held at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning at St. Joseph's church, with a solemn high mass of requiem sung by Father Edward Jacobs, celebrant; Father M. E. Dailey, deacon; Father Joseph M. Tague, of Tidoute, sub-deacon, and with Father Joseph Downing, of Oil City, in the sanctuary.

For the offertory, Mrs. W. P. Merrill sang Rosewig's "Ave Maria," and for the processional, Millard's "Come, Holy Spirit."

Interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: Gerald Harrington, John P. Harrington, Willis Cooney, Dr. William M. Cashman, Edward Johnson and Marshall Mansfield.

GRAND MASTER WILL PAY VISIT TO THIS COUNTY

Odd Fellows of Warren county are looking forward to an outstanding meeting at Tidouite on Friday, May 30, when Samuel I. Kollar, of Shillington, grand master of the state of Pennsylvania, will make his official visit to the county. It was announced today by Charles B. Morrow, secretary of Eden Lodge, No. 668, I. O. O. F., of Tidouite.

A banquet will be held at the Hotel Tidouite for members of the order and friends at 6:30 p. m. Reservations for this banquet must be made with Mr. Morrow by May 27.

Following the banquet, an open meeting will be held in the Tidouite lodge rooms. Speakers for the evening will include Deputy Grand Master Water H. Klein, of East Brady; Past Grand Master Henry Robinson, of Pittsburgh; Robert W. Haas, superintendent of the I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home at Meadville; A. G. Eichholtz, superintendent of Wayside Inn at Grove City; Earl Bishop, of Butler, and other prominent men of the order.

It was announced that the I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home Band, of Meadville, will lead the Memorial Day parade in Tidouite again this year.

Hull Asks Definite Assertion

problem for the United States, for this country is unsympathetic to the thought of the two ships eventually finding their way into Axis hands.

In the broader field of Franco-American relations, the United States was understood to have lost faith completely in verbal pledges transmitted to the State Department by the French envoy.

The reported reason was that the pledges have not prevented the Vichy government's pro-Nazi elements (as Secretary Hull is understood to call them) from forcing obedience to Nazi demands for increasing "cooperation."

Permitting Nazi warplanes to use airfields in French-mandated Syria for operations against the British in Iraq was cited as a specific example of Vichy's acquiescence to demands beyond the requirements of the armistice.

In this connection, informed quarters said that France's action might constitute a violation of the 1924 convention between the French and American republics, which stipulated that no part of the mandated territory should be "placed under control of a foreign power" unless the United States assents.

Henry-Have set the diplomatic pot boiling yesterday when he conferred for an hour with Secretary Hull, seeking to find out why Franco-German "collaboration" had caused an "explosion of emotion" here and inspired President Roosevelt to warn the "with a military power" bent on "the utter destruction of freedom."

Mill Deducted From Personal Property Tax

With the entire budget coming out today, Aclerhman predicted final adjournment of the 1941 session "sometime between the week ending June 7 and the week ending June 14." It started adjournment.

The financial program has yet to go through the Republican Senate where Floor Leader James A. Goltz expressed doubt that it was possible to cut taxes at this time. In its final form, James' budget was increased $20,000,000 by the Democratic House, adding $12,000,000 for state supervision of county mental institutions and another $8,000,000 for payment of postponed school subsidies.

Congressional Changes Cause House Tangle

the right of the committee to report a "certified copy" of the Senate bill, since the original was in O'Connor's possession and William Carson, the House sergeant at arms, was ordered to go out and bring him before the House.

Carson later reported he found O'Connor ill in his hotel room. At the same time Rep. William L. Shaffer (D-Allegheny), vice chairman of the committee, reported that O'Connor had given him the official copy of the Senate bill.

On motion of Rep. Aclerhman an debate concerning the substitute bill was stricken from the record, and O'Connor was given a leave of absence because of illness.

THE SACRED DAGGER

By Rita Mohr Hanson

YESTERDAY: Anne Willard has been met at a desert station by Pete Mackey, and is being flown to her father's camp. But before Pete arrived, a stranger happened by, and strangely interested Anne. And then two nurses brought her a dagger, a token from her father. And now she and Pete just have rescued the white stranger, whose airplane had crashed on the wide plain. His nickname is Blaze.

Chapter Three Accident

ANNE's companion took off his helmet. "To rest my ears," he shouted, and wiggled them skillfully. Now, she understood the name Mackey had called him. A white blaze streaked his dark hair above the left eye. She had heard this is a mark of peculiar inheritance passed on by mother to son or from father to daughter. Gypsies regard such people as being especially blessed.

Presently they passed over a small nomadic encampment of men and horses and Anne recalled the dagger that she wore. She wondered how much this young man knew about it, if anything. As they sailed over rough country again, the air seemed to take on the nature of the landscape below.

equanimity restored, "are out of luck. This thing is like a gold rush. The first man who stakes the claim gets the concession."

"The claim is not staked yet," he reminded her. "She let her hand rest on the ceremonial dagger hidden under her coat. 'I carry the stake.'"

"I know," he admitted. "She had wondered. 'And you can't influence father.'"

"At least I can talk to him." He took a pipe from his mouth. "May I?" She nodded. Mackey came over and dropped down beside them. "You two know each other before?" he asked curiously.

Anne said, "We've discovered that we are—natural enemies."

"How romantic," he jested. "There is only one ending to that situation."

"This affair," said Anne drily, "is going to be different. How does it happen we are still alive?"

"The men looked at each other. 'I don't know,' said Mackey, 'unless it is the Shierwood luck. Twice in one day. Maybe there is luck in having a name so much like that of the old Buddha Sherwood of Shani Lun.' He rose to appraise the damage on his plane."

Anne looked up at the desolation about them, the endless ridges of gravelly sand with an occasional clump of camelthorn, the lowering horizon, the threat of snowstorm. This was the eastern fringe of Omar Khayyam's part of the world.

The bottom fell out of the world.

Mackey attempted to rise to escape the bumps. Suddenly, the wing fabric started to loosen and he leveled out.

Her companion tested Anne's safety belt, hastily stuffed the cushions about her on the farther side and lifted his bed roll against the cowl in front of them. They heard Mackey yell as he cut the engine.

A lurch, a drop, and the bottom fell out of the world.

Gregory Sherwood

WHEN Anne regained consciousness, she lay wrapped in a fur robe in the shelter of the unbroken wing of the plane. The young man called Blaze was working over Mackey, washing blood from the side of his head. Anne felt faint again for a moment, and then rallied and sat up. Except for the shaking and a bump on her forehead and for a swollen left thumb that was twisted in a peculiar position, there seemed to be nothing wrong with her. The young man came over.

"I've been remembering," she remarked before he could speak. "That last night you said, 'Au revoir' instead of goodbye. Was it intentional?"

He grinned. "I'd hoped to see you in Chuka. How are you feeling?"

Mutely she held up the injured thumb. He frowned and took her hand in his, examined the member carefully, felt along the bones and with a sudden, unexpected jerk, pulled them into place. Anne gave a little gasp and then laughed.

"You did that like a professional."

"I'm a Jack of all trades," he said, sitting down crosslegged opposite her and added, "an archaeologist has to be. My name is Gregory Sherwood." Her eyes betrayed her, nor could she hide the tell-tale color that suffused her face. "I was afraid you had heard about me," he sighed, nibbling on a blade of grass.

"You're the man who has charge of antiquarian research in Shani Lun."

He nodded. "What does your father say about me?"

She spoke stiffly. "Of course he thinks you have no right to interfere in his quest for Shy-a Nago."

"I'm compelled to disagree with that," he replied gently. "You see, I heard of Shy-a Nago before he did. I was working on a way to propitiate the Nagara tribesmen when your parents stumbled upon them under particularly favorable circumstances."

"Snow upon the Desert's dusty face," she murmured, and added forlornly, "We're not safe yet."

"She's done for," Mackey called to them, giving the fuselage of the ship a slap, and added as he returned, "Oh, well, the old bird would have been grounded years ago in any other country."

Dangerous Land

"HOW come you got permission to fly to Chuka?" Sherwood demanded.

"I didn't," grinned Mackey. "I thought I'd just come and then fly on to the capital and ask his nobs for a job."

"Then perhaps it's just as well for you that we did crack up. They say Chinese prisons are nasty places to die in."

"You were flying to the same place."

"I was on government business with a permit. This stunt of yours is quite different."

Mackey whistled. "Sweet serpent is that the way you've got the new Chinese governor sized up?"

"That's the way."

"No better than the Emir of Yangsar, eh?"

"Worse."

"If my reckoning's right, we're inside Yangsar territory now."

Anne saw the men exchange troubled glances. She had heard unpleasant things about the independent Emirate.

"Wandering nomad tribes may have seen or heard us," Mackey went on. "If they come to investigate, I only hope they listen to reason. White people are not so highly thought of in this part of the world right now."

"You can't scare me or Miss Willard," said Sherwood. "With your brains and her charm and my luck, we're an unbeatable combination."

"Here's hoping. We'd better bivouac for the night under this wing and collect camel thorn to keep a fire going."

"I'll start a fire with oil and material from the broken wing, leaving Anne to watch it. Snow had begun to slant down and hiss across the land, with unfriendly bitterness."

When Sherwood returned with an armload of fuel and sat down for a few moments she asked, "Do you know Philip Oliver?"

"I've met him," he said.

Anne pulled the fur robe around her shoulders. "Philip Oliver and I are going to be married tomorrow."

"You won't be in Chuka tomorrow," he said.

To be continued

OBITUARY

J. M. LYTLE

Word was received in Warren today of the death of J. M. Lytle, former resident of this city, which occurred in Tulsa, Okla., Monday. The funeral services were held at Skiatook, Okla., where he had lived for many years. The body is being brought to the Kerr Funeral Home in Titusville, where short services will be conducted Friday at two p. m., after which it will be brought to Warren for interment in the family lot in Oakland cemetery.

Older residents of the west side where Mr. Lytle lived with his family before leaving for Oklahoma thirty years ago will remember him as a citizen of high standing and a very likeable personality.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. W. O. Foreman, wife of the supervising principal of the New Salem, Pa., schools. In addition to Mrs. Foreman, he leaves a granddaughter, Mrs. Charles F. Eggers II, and a great-granddaughter, Rachel Lenore Eggers, of Uniontown; two sisters, Mrs. Harry Boyen, Titusville, and Mrs. William Fleming, Pleasantville; three brothers, D. A. Lytle, Tyro, Kansas; G. A. Lytle, Dewey, Okla., and M. J. Lytle, Tulsa. His wife, Emma M. Lytle, passed away in 1905.

Mr. Lytle was a member of the Presbyterian church at Skiatook and the Masonic Lodge at Skiatook, Okla.

JOHN C. HARRINGTON, SR.

Funeral services in memory of John C. Harrington, Sr., well known Irvine resident and railroad man, were held at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning at St. Joseph's church, with a solemn high mass of requiem sung by Father Edward Jacobs, celebrant; Father M. E. Dailey, deacon; Father Joseph McTague, of Tidouite, sub-deacon; and with Father Joseph Downing, of Oil City, in the sanctuary.

For the offertory, Mrs. W. P. Merritt sang Rosewig's "Ave Maria," and for the processional, Millard's "Come, Holy Spirit."

Interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: Gerald Harrington, John P. Harrington, Willis Cooney, Dr. William M. Cashman, Edward Johnson and Marshall Mansfield.

The many in attendance included the following from away: Mrs. Margaret Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harrington and daughter, Dorothy; John P. Harrington and daughter, Pauline, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beauchamp, Marian Walsh and William Weldon, Titusville; Mrs. William Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sullivan and daughter, Marian; Mrs. Nell O'Day and Mrs. M. J. Cudahy, Corry; Mr. and Mrs. Leo V. Harrington, Katherine Harrington, Mrs. Cecelia Hine, Jameson, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mansfield, Marshall Mansfield, Mrs. Sara Sullivan, Oil City; Mrs. Kate Fahey and Edward Fahey, Buffalo, N. Y.; Maurice Cashman, St. Marys; Mrs. Kathryn Kennedy, Mrs. Agnes Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Keany, Olean, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Brad Frazier, Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. Bessie Dooley, Scottsdale; Dennis O'Leary, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Fitzgerald, Joseph Slatter, Mrs. Katherine McGuire, Ellen McGuire and Mrs. Michael Milley, Sheffield.

MRS. W. P. KIRKPATRICK

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. W. P. Kirkpatrick, of Clarion, will be held from the home at one o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. Emerson Jones, of the Clarion Methodist church, will officiate and interment will take place at Edinboro.

MRS. JOHN F. WESLEY

Mrs. John F. Wesley, aged 72 years, passed away at her home on College street, Youngsville, at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter and one son, Mrs. Lucy Ritchie and H. C. Wesley, both of Youngsville; a grandson and a great-grandson in Bedford, Ohio, and a number of relatives in and near Cleveland, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held from the Hull Funeral Home at Youngsville at two o'clock Friday afternoon, with interment in the I. O. O. F. cemetery at that place.

GEORGE W. KELLEY

George W. Kelley, of Russell, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his son, Paul Kelley, of Garland. Besides the son at whose home he died, he leaves the following children: A. L. Kelley, Warren; Arthur Kelley, Leo Kelley, Clifford Kelley, Marvin Kelley and Mrs. Myrtle Pangborn, all of Russell.

Removal was made to the Lutz Funeral Home and funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the Kelley home, instead in Russell. Interment will be in Pine Grove cemetery.

Friends may call at the Lutz Funeral Home until one o'clock Friday afternoon, when the body will be taken to the Kelley home, instead in Russell.

Homestead Grays In Clash With Forgers Tomorrow At Irvine

Everything is set for tomorrow night's baseball opener at Wilder Field, Irvine, between the National American and the Homestead Grays, the game slated to start at 8:30 o'clock.

The Irvine team has worked out through the past week at Beatty and Wilder fields to get in shape for the fracas. The Grays, with nearly a month of baseball already behind them, will have the edge in condition. However, the Forgers shape up into a strong aggregation and are determined to make it a busy evening for their visitors.

"Lefty" Kubick is expected to take the mound for the Forgers, with Bobby Williams doing the catching. The Grays are uncertain as to their starting battery, but it is expected that either Raymond Brown, or Roy Partlow, will start with Robert Gaston behind the plate.

As for the rest of the Irvine lineup, it will probably be: Hajnik, first base; Nalale, second base; Morrison, shortstop; Petrowski, third base; Wolfe, left field; Giegarich, center field; and Rosquoct, right field.

A large crowd is expected to see the contest.

P.I.A.A. May Have Cross-Country Run

Harrisburg, May 21.—(P.A.)—A gigantic cross-country run, probably on Armistice Day—November 11—is planned by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association to draw attention to "health and morale" of students as a part of the nation's defense picture.

Secretary Edmund J. Wight disclosed plans for the run today, announcing it was in the hands of Lawrence Walsh, of District 3, who made the proposal at a meeting of the board of control.

The board promptly approved the idea and may take up further details at a meeting scheduled for this Friday.

In proportion to its size, a five-mile run is stronger than a mile.

GUS AND ANTON MIX TOMORROW EVE IN GARDEN

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, May 21.—(P.A.)—The sight of a couple of husky punchers fighting for a National Boxing Association Championship in a state which has no truck with the N. B. A. is just part of the entertainment in store for the fans at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The principals in this odd bout are Anton Christoforidis of Greece, and Gus Lesnevich of Clifside, N. J. They'll go 15 rounds for the light-heavyweight title, or a part of one, depending upon the point of view.

Christoforidis earned N. B. A. recognition as champion when he outpointed Melio Bettina last January in Cleveland. But it was specified at the time he'd have to meet Lesnevich within a few months.

In New York, however, Billy Conn still is the official champion, as he hasn't surrendered the title formally though he's aiming only at the heavyweight crown. Even when he does relinquish light-heavy honors, tomorrow's winner won't be recognized as his successor until after he has fought Jimmy Webb. So across the river in Lesnevich's home territory, the bout is being billed as a championship scrap, while here it's only an elimination.

Lesnevich, who failed twice to corral Conn's share of the title, may have his hands full trying to connect with Christoforidis. The one-time Athens bellhop has been fighting since he was 14 years old. He battled most of the big-time middleweights of Europe.

Other Conn purses include $15,000 for his fight with Bob Pastor, $10,000 in the Leo Savold fight, $10,000 for the Gummy Barlow date and $12,000 for his return match with Fred Apostoli.

"We'll top $25,000 for our end against Knox," Ray asserted, "the way tickets are going we may even hit $30,000."

The Dapper Dan Club, charitable organization acting as co-promoter of the 15-round Conn-Knox fight, agrees with Ray's expectations of a record purse. Officers say the advance sale already is $24,000 and that with a warm night they may sell out Forbes Field with a crowd in excess of 34,000.

"Billy's going to chill that guy," Ray proclaimed. "We're too near to that heavyweight title to stumble."

Officially, neither was spread with the thumb, with Charles II of Sweden setting the fashion.

Driver Takes Gymnasium Workout

Chat Miller of Detroit takes 100-mile gymnasium workout in preparation for 500-mile race on Indianapolis Speedway, May 30. Contraption, with compressed air cylinder jerking and pulling on it to simulate strain of traveling 100 miles an hour, was rigged up by Cotton Henning, mechanic.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

The Pathetic, official publication of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, carried in its issue of April 28, some interesting pictures of Warren High School's state champion gym team and individual titleholders. The shots include a group shot, that being of course, the Dragons after they had retained their team laurels. Eugene Pring in a picture playing second fiddle to Joe Mirzani, of Westinghouse high school, winner on the parallel bars. Raymond Mead, standing on a platform with a big "two" representing second place in a group picture with first and third place contestants in the rope climb, and then the real treat, Warren tumbler, Pring Devore "Big" Matthews, and William Mead, in first, second, and third positions respectively, the event in which they made a clean sweep to hold on to the coveted state gymnast title through 1941.

You can do worse than to take the little jaunt down to Irvine tomorrow night when it comes to thinking about your entertainment program. We can name several features which anyone will like that you're bound to see during the Grays-Forge clash. First, there's bound to be a good brand of baseball, and a thrilling game from the start. That's typical in any ball game where the home standers are included. Then, the colored outfit is one of the best in the game when it comes to showmanship. Besides being great players, they add a spray of laughs which amuses any crowd. But, for the down-right baseball fan, the boy who pays his money to watch them play the game as it should be played, the Forgers offer four stars that will keep your money an investment. They'll have Elmo Wolfe in left field, "Emmy" Morrison at shortstop, Cusimano, at second base, and this up and coming Bobby Williams, clever receiver who is expected to start the game. Williams has been rising ever since he played with Sugar Grove high school. Back then, he rated up with some of the Sunset league catchers, and you might say he had had very little experience at that time. He's a born ball player, and you won't find a more capable guardian of home plate and the 90 feet up either the third or first baselines, where he races to back up his infielders, than this new addition to the Forge combine. Don't say we didn't tell you! And don't forget to get out to the ball game.

Strikes and balls: ... With the National Open being held in Houston, Texas June 5-6-7, the native sons of the Lone Star State are going out in droves trying to qualify ... Over one hundred better than average golfers are putting in their bids for berths in this year's tourney ... Other years, the average ranges around thirty or forty ... Hugh Mulcahy, pitcher who's in the army now, will toss 'em over for the Camp Edwards nine in Uncle Sam's league this summer up in Massachusetts ... Which give us the thought that the different camps might not be such bad places for big league ivory hunters to go in search of new talent ... Paul Waner, Bucco star for fifteen years who was traded to the Dodgers this spring where he was later released, bails the Flatbush flock the greatest team he has ever seen in the National League ... St. Louis Cards aren't so bad ... The Dragons have four more baseball games scheduled this spring, and we can't see what's going to keep them from having a very successful season now ... And what's going to happen to those young diamond stars when school vacates this summer? ... Ought to be some way of keeping them together ... Now the press room comes up with a contender for this year's Open ... He threw away his fishing pole for a couple of golf sticks ... His last name isn't Jones but his first name is Bobby.

Sports Round-up

BY EDDIE BRUETZ
New York, May 21.—(The Special New Service)—If Pacific Coast sports writers have their way, Dick Bartell will be offered the first managerial job to open up out there ... Ray Arcel, one of the best two trainers of fighters in New York, will have charge of Warren Wilson, Clemens' back-hitting Southern Conference Heavyweight Champion, when he invades the pro ranks this summer ... Frankie Kovacs is telling pals he's going to join the army as soon as he wins the National singles championship ... Good news: The Giants voluntarily tore up the contracts of Bill Jurgens, Gabby Hartnett, and Ace Adams and gave them new ones calling for nice raises ... Bad news: Henry Armstrong starts that comeback in July ... district boxing commissioners for not letting a local guy referee the Joe Louis-Buddy Baer Friday night. Arthur Donovan will be imported from New York ... Montana State's 1940 football squad has sent nine men to the national guard, eight to the reserve officers' corps, three to the regular army and two to the air corps ... Abe Simon's magazine piece says no Jewish fighter ever won the heavyweight crown. What was Max Baer—Irish?

Today's Guest Star
Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "There are 100 women in Philadelphia for every 97 men ... Then where do the local boxing writers get off with their essays about the shortage of sparring partners?"

John Novak, Francis Rosso and Al Chappuis, pitchers for the American International College at Springfield, Mass., have limited the opposition to one run in 52 innings this season. Nice going, fellers.

Marty Sarno, who wears Lou Ambers' old shoes for the Al Weil fight stable, is doing a pretty fair country job of filling 'em—41 wins, two draws in 43 pro fights ... Cleveland robbers are passing out orchids to Gee Walker, who's sparking the Tribe in the fast pace it's setting ... If you know of a "name" football team which has an open date on November 8, refer it to Coach Henry Franks of Tulsa U. ... Hell oblige.

SUGAR GROVE IS UNABLE TO STOP DRAGONS

There can be no superstition in the lineup of the Warren High School Dragons, for at Sugar Grove yesterday in their thirteenth game of the year, they scored thirteen runs to notch their thirteenth victory as Sugar Grove fell again before the local juggernaut.

Huffman and Kifer led the Blue and White with the former cashing in at bat for four hits in five attempts, including a three-base knock and the latter pitching a one-hitter for four innings, while his matso built up a substantial lead.

Don Sharp smacked out a home run with two men aboard in the fifth inning to let Warren coast home with ease.

The Grovers were able to get only four singles, three of them coming in the seventh inning when they evaded a shutout and scored all of their three runs.

Brooklyn Continues To Flounder; Macks Beat Indians Again

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Percentages control everything in baseball.

You see them in the standings of the clubs, in the batting and fielding averages and in other statistics. You don't see them, but they are present when a left-handed pitcher, or a batter, or a fielder is walked to set up a double play, or the infield comes in close to play for a sacrifice, or the outfield moves around in position for a dead-leftfield hit.

This "law of average" also is the key to the present tailspins of the Cleveland Indians and Brooklyn Dodgers.

Before the Indians lost their third straight to the seventh-place Athletics they had won 23 games and lost nine for a .714 percentage. Before the Dodgers dropped four in a row at Pittsburgh and Chicago they had won 22 and lost six for a sensational .786.

These simply were steers too fast for either club to maintain, just as the same reasoning applies to the St. Louis Cardinals, who were breezing along at a .714 clip till they were bumped yesterday by the last-place Phillies.

In the past 40 years in the Major Leagues only seven championships have been won with percentages above .700.

In the course of bringing the Dodgers down to earth, the Cubs made 33 hits and 30 runs in three contests. They bagged yesterday's game, 9-1, bunching six hits for three runs in the fourth against Kirby Higbe and nicking Newt Kimball in the eighth for six runs, three of them on Lou Stringer's triple with the bases loaded.

The Cardinals, cut down, 6-4, in 11 innings by the Phils remained a half-game behind the Dodgers in won-lost figuring although holding onto the official percentage lead.

Frank McCormick smacked a three-run homer with two out in the ninth to give the Cincinnati Reds a 9-6 victory over the Boston Braves after Ernie Koy of the Reds had hit a round-tripper with one on in the eighth.

Arky Vaughan settled a see-saw game between the New York Giants and Pittsburgh in favor of the Pirates, 7-5, with a two run homer in the seventh.

The Athletics ambushed Mel Harder, undefeated previously with four victories, and whipped the Indians, 6-5. Rookie Tom Ferrick, third relief pitcher for Philadelphia, worked two innings in which he did not let a man reach first.

The second-place Chicago White Sox polished off a sweep of their three-game series at Washington with Lefty Thornton Lee holding the Senators to six hits for a 5-2 victory.

Young Earl Johnson, southpaw star of the Boston Red Sox, held the Detroit Tigers to four hits and shut them out for eight innings to win, 4-2.

The Browns handed the Yankees a 10-9 decision on a platter gashed with no less than six errors.

Homestead Grays In Clash With Forgers Tomorrow At Irvine

Everything is set for tomorrow night's baseball opener at Wilder Field, Irvine, between the National Forge and the Homestead Grays, the game slated to start at 5:30 o'clock.

The Irvine team has worked out through the past week at Beatty and Wilder fields to get in shape for the fracas. The Grays, with nearly a month of baseball already behind them, will have the edge in condition. However, the Forgers shape up into a strong aggregation and are determined to make it a busy evening for their visitors.

"Lefty" Kulick is expected to take the mound for the Forge, with Bobby Williams doing the catching. The Grays are uncertain as to their starting battery, but it is expected that either Raymond Brown, or Roy Partlow will start with Robert Gaston behind the plate.

As for the rest of the Irvine lineup, it will probably be: Hajnik, first base; Natalie, second base; Morrison, shortstop; Petrevski, third base; Wolfe, left field; Giegrich, center field, and Rosequist, right field.

A large crowd is expected to see the contest.

P.I.A.A. May Have Cross-Country Run

Harrisburg, May 21.—(P)—A gigantic cross-country run, probably on Armistice Day—November 11—is planned by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association to draw attention to "health and morale" of students as a part of the nation's defense picture.

Secretary Edmund J. Wicht disclosed plans for the run today, announcing it was in the hands of C. Lawrence Walsh, of District 5, who made the proposal at a meeting of the board of control.

The board promptly approved the idea and may take up further details at a meeting scheduled for this Friday.

In proportion to its size, a fly is stronger than a man.

GUS AND ANTON MIX TOMORROW EVE IN GARDEN

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, May 21.—(P)—The sight of a couple of husky punchers fighting for a National Boxing Association Championship in a state which has no truck with the N. B. A. is just part of the entertainment in store for the fans at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The principals in this odd bout are Anton Christoforidis of Greece, and Gus Lesnevich of Cliffside, N. J. They'll go 15 rounds for the light-heavyweight title, or a part of one, depending upon the point of view.

Christoforidis earned N. B. A. recognition as champion when he outpointed Melio Bettina last January in Cleveland. But it was specified at the time he'd have to meet Lesnevich within a few months.

In New York, however, Billy Conn still is the official champion, as he hasn't surrendered the title formally though he's aiming only at the heavyweight crown. Even when he does relinquish light-heavy honors, tomorrow's winner won't be recognized as his successor until after he has fought Jimmy Webb. So across the river in Lesnevich's home territory, the bout is being billed as a championship scrap, while here it's only an elimination.

Lesnevich, who failed twice to corral Conn's share of the title, may have his hands full trying to connect with Christoforidis. The one-time Athens bellhop has been fighting since he was 14 years old. He battled most of the big-time middleweights of Europe.

Last Night's Bouts

By the Associated Press
Buffalo, N. Y. Jackie Donovan, 154½, Buffalo, and Andre Jessurun, 154, New York, drew (10).

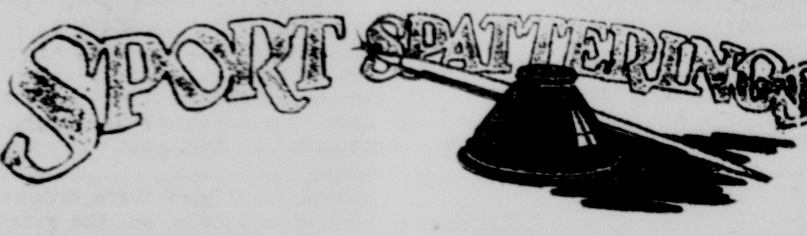

New York—Leonard Bennett, 146, Chicago, outpointed Jerry Fiorelli, 151, Brooklyn, N. Y. (8). Tami Mauriello, 166½, New York, stopped Jimmy O'Boyle, 162½, Boston (2).

Driver Takes Gymnasium Workout

Chet Miller of Detroit takes 100-mile gymnasium workout in preparation for 500-mile race on Indianapolis Speedway, May 30. Contraption, with compressed air cylinder jerking and pulling on it to simulate strain of traveling 125 miles an hour, was rigged up by Cotton Henning, mechanic.

The Pa'athlete, official publication of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, carried in its issue of April 28 some interesting pictures of Warren High School's state champion gym team and individual titleholders. The shots include a group of the team, the Dragons after they had retained their team laurels, Eugene Pring in a picture playing second fiddle to Joe Mireni, of Westinghouse high school, winner on the parallel bars, Raymond Mead, standing on a platform with a big "two" representing second place in a group picture with first and third place contestants in the rope climb, and then the real treat, three Warren tumbler, Pring, Devere "Bud" Matthews, and William Mead, in first, second, and third positions respectively, the event in which they made a clean sweep to hold on to the coveted state gymnast title through 1941.

You can do worse than to take the little jaunt down to Irvine tomorrow night when it comes to thinking about your entertainment program. We can name several features which anyone will like that you're bound to see during the Grays-Forge clash. First, there's bound to be a good brand of baseball, and a thrilling game from the start. That's typical in any ball game where the Homesteaders are included. Then, the colored outfit is one of the best in the game when it comes to showmanship. Besides being great players, they add a spray of laughs which amuses any crowd. But, for the down-right baseball fan, the boy who pays his money to watch them play the game as it should be played, the Forgers offer four stars that will keep your money an investment. They'll have Elmo Wolfe in left field, "Emmy" Morrison at shortstop, Cusimano, at second base, and this up and coming Bobby Williams, clever receiver who is expected to start the game. Williams has been rising ever since he played with Sugar Grove high school. Back then, he rated up with some of the Sunset league catchers, and you might say he had had very little experience at that time. He's a born ball player, and you won't find a more capable guardian of home plate and the 90 feet up either the third or first baselines, where he races to back up his infielders, than this new addition to the Forge combine. Don't say we didn't tell you! And don't forget to get out to the ball game.

SUGAR GROVE IS UNABLE TO STOP DRAGONS

There can be no superstition in the lineup of the Warren High School Dragons, for at Sugar Grove yesterday in their thirteenth game of the year, they scored thirteen runs to notch their thirteenth victory as Sugar Grove fell again before the local juggernaut. Huffman and Kifer led the Blue and White with the former cashing in at bat for four hits in five attempts, including a three base knock and the latter pitching a one hitter for four innings, while his matse built up a substantial lead.

Don Sharp smacked out a home run with two men aboard in the fifth inning to let Warren coast home with ease.

The Groves were able to get only four singles, three of them coming in the seventh inning when they evaded a shutout and scored all of their three runs.

LINDBERGH BANNED IN PHILLY ACADEMY

Philadelphia, May 21—(P)—The Philadelphia Academy of Music has banned an address there by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in behalf of the America First Committee. President John Frederick Lewis declared:

"The audiences Lindbergh attracts are Communists and Nazis and enemies of our American form of government."
Chairman Isaac A. Pennypacker, head of the committee's Philadelphia branch, charged the academy's action was a "suppression of free and sincere discussion of questions of the greatest importance to the American people."

He announced Lindbergh would make his address anyway—at the Philadelphia arena May 29.

TIMES TOPICS

DIES IN MARYLAND

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Johnson, 212 Onondaga avenue, received word this afternoon of the death of their son-in-law, Herbert R. Weston, in Silver Spring, Md., following a stroke. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning and interment will take place in Arlington cemetery. Mr. Weston, very well known here, was a government employee and veteran of the World War.

ADDRESSES FIREMEN

Nearly one hundred paid and volunteer firemen of Warren county attended a meeting in the court house here last night when Arthur Espey, head of the fire school of the state department of public instruction, spoke on the new plan of fire schools throughout Pennsylvania. After his interesting address, it was indicated that such a fire school would be sought here. During the meeting, Gurney Ball, of Youngsville, was elected president of the county firemen's organization to fill a vacancy caused by a resignation.

Report On Air Invasion Made By Churchill

Greece has shifted its government, is less than five miles from Suda Bay. On the northwest corner of the island, it is closest to the southern Greek airdromes from which the Germans are launching their sustained aerial invasion attempt.
"In the Suda Bay area," Churchill said, "further air-borne attacks commenced at half past four p. m. yesterday."
About 3,000 men were dropped and by six thirty p. m. the greater part of these had been accounted for.

The House broke into cheers and Churchill went on:

"The fighting continued and the situation was reported in hand at nine o'clock."

"The method of the attack was Stukas and Messerschmitts followed by gliders and parachutes."

"In the Heracleon (Candia) Retimo areas, the attacks began at half past five by parachutes and troop-carrying aircraft, many of which crashed, also landed."

"There are no details yet. Of course, we must expect that the fighting will continue in increasing severity."

Churchill, answering a question, reiterated his statement of yesterday that the first German parachutists were New Zealand battle dress and added that the government also had been informed that some Nazi specialists were in the battle uniforms of English Tommies.

As to whether such prisoners would be put to death on the spot as spies, Churchill said he was "not sufficiently informed on the exact circumstances." The Germans have denied their forces used New Zealand uniforms.

"We must leave a certain amount of discretion to those on the spot," the prime minister added.

DEMOS CALL MEETING

Harrisburg, May 21—(P)—A meeting of the Democratic state committee was called today for June 11 at Harrisburg to recommend candidates for the state Supreme and Superior courts at this year's municipal election.
The average annual tax burden on trucks now exceeds $100.

Guests Watch and Listen Hungrily at First Session Of Cooking School

hall, and above all, breathe deep of the tantalizing fragrance seeping out of the busy oven in the completely equipped kitchen. If you aren't hungry by that time—well, it just isn't normal!

"How can one pair of hands possibly do everything?"

That familiar question, echoing daily from thousands of homes, is foremost in the Y. W. C. A. activities building, where Mrs. Katherine Baldridge turns out an incredible volume of work, wasting no time, motions, or food products. Yet no question is alighted, no job is given "a lick and a promise," in the fast-moving program, which like a perfect menu, requires careful advance planning, shrewd marketing and a systematic work schedule.

Those good-to-the-last-crumbs delicacies—bronzed as the French-fried potatoes, the golden-brown, the inviting moulded salads, had the inspired pupils finger their recipe sheets in delight.

Fresh culinary interest was matched by interest in the easily-operated labor-saving devices watched in actual performance, and the close of the class found neighbors stepping forward for a closer inspection of attractive displays by community merchants.

Like a real neighbor, Mrs. Baldridge held "open house" in her model kitchen, where guests saw the many proud pupils carried home substantial reminders of the school in filled market bags, in luscious demonstration dishes, and in exciting surprises.

Impressive rewards are awaiting many members of the Friday graduating class in household arts.

One, two classes gone. School is half over! Three, four are coming Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and Friday a half hour earlier—at 1:30, meaning two more gala sessions and two more days of worthwhile presents, original recipes and opportunities to consult a home economics specialist, who makes home problems her full-time job.

Remember the final dates—Thursday at 2 p. m. and Friday at 1:30.

Attention was called today to the fact that this is the annual Times-Mirror Cooking School and that no school will be held in the fall, as in previous years.

At the first session yesterday, the following women received market bags of groceries: Mrs. George Beach, 7 Glenwood street; Mrs. Alfred Cobb, 19 Ludlow street; Mrs. Gerald Lindberg, 1025 West Fifth avenue; Mrs. L. Hartweg, 104 Park avenue; Mrs. Carl V. Munch, 316 United avenue; Mrs. J. W. Reilly, R. D. 3, Warren; Twila A. MacDowell, 13 Orchard street; Mrs. Phoebe Peterson, R. D. 1, Warren, and Mrs. E. F. Connors, 604 Conewango avenue.

Food recipes went to Mrs. Paul Hamblin, R. D. 3, Warren; Alice M. Lyon, Youngsville; Mrs. J. E. Hillgrove, 412 Water street, and Maxine Allinger, 315 Poplar street.

Other gifts included: Clorox. Mrs. H. A. Yonkie, 14 West Wayne street; Clorox, Mrs. Sam Johnson, 2030 Pennsylvania avenue, east; box of Rinso, box of Lux, cake of Lux soap and Lifebuoy soap, to Mrs. Harold Bailey, 2028 S. Pennsylvania avenue, east; box of Rinso, Mrs. L. Hartweg, Park avenue; six-penn can of Spry, Mrs. Eugene Musante, 522 Crescent Park.

MUCH INTEREST IN MARATHON AT METZGER STORE

Much interest is being shown by the customers and co-workers of Metzger-Wright's in the 45th anniversary Lilac Marathon. This is a contest that both the contingents and co-workers of the store participate in, as prizes are awarded to those in each classification who make the greatest gains over their quotas of sales during the event.

Each customer by patronizing After Saturday's sales were added to make his or her quota. It was found that Owen J. Inang, a Metzger-Wright Honor Club member, was the favored one in the co-workers' contest and Mrs. Lillian Washburn in the contingent class.

There are still many gifts to be given away during the last three days of the 45th Anniversary Sale, among them $12.50 two-suit traveling bag for men, a $10.95 blanket, $8.75 Coty set, $5 Lucian Lelong Caselle of perfumes, besides many other lovely gifts which are on display by the stamp desk on the first floor.

Those who found the little lilac tickets and redeemed them at the stamp desk for gifts yesterday were Mrs. Kitty Smith, Mrs. A. Homan, Mrs. Domenic Rich, Mrs. Robert Schorman, Mrs. Victor Fladry, Harry Lord, Miss Mary E. Rich, Mrs. Norman A. Johnson and Mrs. Howard Clark.

Hot Water a Plenty Is No Strain On Family Finances

Increasing numbers of householders who have determined no longer to put up with the never-ending disadvantages of old-style water heating are discovering that the latest gas water heaters introduced to the market offer two plus values: they are economical in operation and are equal at all times to the exacting demands of this age when personal cleanliness and home sanitation are imperative.

Today the acquisition of an automatic gas water heater is by no means a strain on the family budget. Many homes are cleaner, better and brighter because their owners already have taken advantage of the opportunity offered by their local gas companies and appliance dealers to enjoy hot water convenience and comfort.

An automatic gas water heater, typed and sized to meet individual home and family needs may be purchased on easy long terms, or, as in some instances, by way of the trial rental plan, with no binding financial obligation attached.

Over and above the almost miraculous constant functioning of an automatic gas water heater without attention on the part of anyone, is its eye appeal, of value to the home-maker. When she adds this to her mechanical units in the house, she takes on no Cinderella in appliances. Instead, the water heater is fashionably dressed in a streamline cabinet with a very pleasing appearance to fit perfectly in any kitchen or modernized basement.

The new gas water heater may be seen at the Times-Mirror Free Cooking School.

about forty being present. A wonderfully good time being reported.

These Kids In Sports Are Husky Swingers

JOHN CHAPMAN

JONAS KESSING AND BOB KAVANAUGH

BOBBY JONES 3rd

These youngsters are learning their sports early. National amateur champion Dick Chapman's son, John (left), has a smooth golf swing. The kids below acquire boxing pointers in junior bouts at the Naval Academy. Bobby Jones 3rd, son of Bob, the former golf king, recently played in his first tournament—the Southern Prep championship. He's 14, a good "weekend golfer" but likely won't be a title contender.
